Another African Work Boycott Ordered

Strike Again, Blacks Told

100 More Seized In Raids

JOHANNESBURG (CP) — The African National Congress called on Negroes Thursday to boycott work again next week in the fight against the South African government's racial policies. (See also Page 15.)

Importance of the passive resistance move is that it has been issued by the large, recently-banned African National Congress and not the smaller Panafrican group which sparked the first resistance movement.

SURPRISE RAID

Soon after the new strike call about 300 police backed by armored cars made a surprise raid on a Negro township near here Thursday and rounded up 100 persons for questioning.

Police said many "dangerous weapons, gangsters and wanted criminals" were found. The raid occurred at Orlando Township, about 150 miles from here, where about 10,000 Negroes live.

The new strike call came in leaflets distributed in African townships bordering Johannesburg ordering Negroes to stay home for at least a week in a work boycott starting next Monday.

STRONG-ARM GROUPS

Strong-arm groups have been formed in the native towns to enforce the new strike inasmuch as most natives cannot afford to strike and may endeavor to disregard the call.

Police issued a statement promising protection for all who want to work.

"Hundreds of thousands of law-abiding Africans must not stay away from work," it said. "They must ignore the pamphlets if they have received them."

BIG TROUBLE

Big trouble could come from revival of the work boycott, a powerful economic weapon in this land where 10,000,000 Negroes provide most of the labor for the farms, factories and homes of 3,000,000 whites.

The first phases of the stay-at-home movement, crushed by police raids on African settlements last week, showed the country's vulnerability. Industry slowed. Meat supplies dwindled. Housework suffered.

Mimeographed pamphlets signed by the emergency committee of the African National Congress and circulated throughout the Negro settlements of Johannesburg asked all Negroes to join in a one-week work boycott starting next Monday.

The pamphlets made four major demands as "our answer to the savage attack the government has made on us and our leaders" in efforts to quell the racial turmoil.

The demands were listed as follows:

"1. Down the passes, which

Education Costs

Taxpayers To Save $428,000

Revised Grant Formula Eases Boost in Budget

By TERRY HAMMOND

Greater Victoria taxpayers will be saved $428,000 in education costs as the result of a revised school grant formula announced by the provincial government yesterday.

The announcement took much of the sting out of a $1,000,000 increase in School District 61's 1960 budget.

NOT KNOWN

But what the provincial grant would mean in terms of tax rate increases in Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt was not immediately known.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson came up with the lowest estimate of what the mill rate increase would have to be—.83 mills.

Saanich municipal officials came up with the highest, 2.1 mills, while school board secretary-treasurer T. L. Christie, on the basis of a quick glance and rapid calculation, estimated 1½ mills.

ONE MILL

Victoria comptroller Dennis Young estimated about 1 mill.

But even the highest estimates made after the grants were released were less than the lowest estimates made previously.

Saanich had feared a 3-mill increase for school purposes and Victoria 2¼ mills.

Other municipalities had made no estimates, but were keeping their fingers crossed.

Greater Victoria will get total school grants of $3,067,722 for operating and $396,597 for debt retirement—a total of $3,464,319.

To meet the school district's total budget of $7,896,087 the area's four municipalities must raise $4,432,000.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the grants the education department announced the percentages which the municipalities must contribute towards this figure.

Victoria and Oak Bay will pay a lower proportion of the total than last year and Saanich and Esquimalt will pay more.

RELATIVE ASSESSMENT

Calculated on the basis of relative assessments between municipalities, Victoria will pay 48.12 per cent of the total, Saanich 28 per cent, Oak Bay 13.79 per cent and Esquimalt 8.11 per cent. Remaining 1.98 per cent will come from unorganized territory (View Royal) within the district.

In terms of dollars and cents the percentages mean that for Greater Victoria schools Victoria city must raise $2,132,676; Saanich, $1,240,960; Oak Bay, $611,172; Esquimalt, $359,435; View Royal, $87,753.

LOCAL SHARE

In addition, Saanich must contribute 38 per cent of the local share of the School District 63 budget, or approximately $158,500.

In the remainder of District 63 the rural area will contribute $124,000; Central Saanich, $91,740; Sidney, $37,530.

Grants Restore Faith

Mayor Believes In Santa Claus

The provincial government may not have won any new admirers with its higher school grants here yesterday, but it didn't make any implacable enemies either.

Word that the province had made good its promise to give greater aid to school districts in the face of sharp increases in teachers' salaries brought sighs of relief in Greater Victoria municipal offices and at city hall.

To news that Victoria will get $428,000 more in provincial education grants this year and that Education Minister Leslie Peterson had estimated the area's school mill rate increase at a mere .83 mills, Mayor Percy Scurrah said, "I still believe in Santa Claus—it's restored my faith."

He commended the government for recognizing the need to reallocate the burden of school costs—"at least to a limited degree."

City finance chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell said, "this makes me a little more optimistic about holding the mill rate to a reasonable amount, anyway."

But among many municipal officials there was fear that Mr. Peterson's estimate of the necessary mill rate increase was too low, and a feeling they would like to see the province

PARIS (AP)—Four-year-old Eric Peugeot, kidnapped heir to a French automobile-making empire, was abandoned by his abductors outside a Paris bar late Thursday night and restored to his family.

The boy was found weeping and bewildered. He appeared shocked and dazed but unharmed.

His father, Roland Peugeot, murmered "I can't say anything" as he emerged from a police station with the child clutched in his arms. Tears streamed down the face of the elder Peugeot.

The father was called to the small Chaillot police station near the Peugeot apartment to pick up the boy. Police cleared a path for the father as he put the boy in a police car to drive home.

The kidnappers—reported to be two men—had asked $100,000 ransom for the boy's safe return.

One unofficial source quoted the father as saying that "some" money had been paid.

The police announcement that the boy had been found came within half an hour after a new note from the kidnappers had been delivered to the Peugeot family.

The note said: "Your son is living and well. Everything will be all right if you keep silent. We will make contact again during the night."

There was no word from police on whether they had found any trace of the kidnappers.

Barman Jean Volphilhec told police:

"It was about five minutes after 1 a.m. when a man came in holding a child by the hand . . . I thought immediately of Eric Peugeot and looked at the picture in the newspaper . . . then all the clients around me began to ask the boy his name."

He said the boy replied: "My name is Eric Peugeot."

Floating Life Jackets Dash Hopes for Men

SECHELT, B.C. (CP) — The discovery of a pair of life jackets floating in the wind-swept waters of Georgia Strait dashed hopes of searchers Thursday that six missing men would be found alive.

The six are believed to have been drowned Wednesday night when their 16-foot outboard motorboat was caught in threshing waves and winds that gusted to 60 miles an hour.

Their boat was found floating, bow up, near this community 40 miles northeast of Vancouver about 5 a.m. Thursday.

Ches Has New Stock

Free Seed Offer Resumes Sunday

M. V. Chesnut's red-hot seed offers resume Sunday in The Daily Colonist with another popular offer channeled through the Garden Notes column.

Ches went broke on the fabulous new sweet peas in the first offer. The demand zoomed far past the 10,000 mark, despite the fact that about 6,500 was anticipated on past performance.

Ches cleaned out all of his own supply, all the seed available in Canada, and finally had to turn to Europe for the last 1,500 packages. This has increased delay, but all should now be filled by Wednesday at the latest.

Having learned a lesson, a tremendous supply of the new seed already is on hand.

Champagne, Shoes All in a Dog's Life

TORONTO (CP)—Two Toronto Humane Society inspectors learned Thursday a dog's life can include a champagne diet and a $400 wardrobe. They didn't approve.

Acting on a complaint that Felsen Fest Pisces, a limpid-eyed 13-month-old white poodle was seen staggering on his daily walk the investigators visited the home of his wealthy lady owner.

Pisces was clad in one of his 15 suits and bow tie. He had just come out of his Turkish bath which he has daily. The inspectors agreed they had never seen such curly hair, but they told the owner they feared the heat bath might eventually damage the skin.

Pisces has an apparent taste for the finer things of life. He prefers his daily glass of champagne to tasteless water.

Society general manager George Hulme said the owner, whom he declined to identify, was being informed of the society's displeasure of the liquid diet and daily heat bath.

"There's certainly no cruelty involved," he said. "We just think it's poor dog management."

The inspectors were somewhat envious of Pisces' wardrobe. Besides 15 suits it included bow ties, six sets of pyjamas, four sets of shoes four to a set, a raincoat and a couple of tiara-like headpieces set with rhinestones.

As for being drunk, Pisces' maid Mation Zahn was adament.

"Pisces is never drunk," she said. "His shoes make him walk funny."

Coast Guard Ship Sinks

SEATTLE (AP)—A 40-foot Coast Guard patrol boat with three men aboard sank yesterday in Puget Sound off Seattle's Magnolia Bluff. The crew was rescued unharmed.

The patrol boat was one of three helping tow in a Coast Guard relief lightship. Witnesses said the 40-footer began settling by the stern and went down. The cause was not immediately determined.

One of the other patrol boats helped pull the three men from the water.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

This man—call him Jim—never used to care about clothes.

"The kind of people who judge you by your clothes aren't worth bothering with," he said airily.

He made no allowance for clothes in his budget. "Clothes are a luxury," remarked Jim.

When holes began showing in the seat and elbows of his last wearable suit, he chiselled some of the grocery money and bought a strange-colored bulgy suit off the bargain hook.

He seldom had it pressed, and if he did, he spoiled the effect by leaving shoes unpolished, or hair unbrushed.

Jim's wife, Margaret, had a job and bought her own clothes. If she hadn't done that, she would have been forced to depend on what she could buy at rummage sales.

Kindly friends sometimes took Margaret aside at parties and said: "I hope you won't be offended but . . . Well, you're a smartly-dressed girl. Why do you let your husband go around looking like a scarecrow"

"I've tried every way I can," she would answer wearily, "but I just can't do anything with him."

Mysterious Change

That was how it went for several years. Then, mysteriously, Jim's attitude began to change. It was hard to say why.

One of the reasons may have been that he was getting a dollar or two more a week, and he could afford a suit that fitted him. At least, he could charge it. And maybe he noticed that when he was wearing a better suit with a crease in it, he felt more confident.

People looked at him more attentively. The disdainful stare that women focused on him (he confided) seemed to have softened to tolerance and, in a few cases, it bordered on liking and respect.

"Am I imagining that I feel better when I'm better dressed?" he asked.

"Probably not," I answered.

Now he has several suits of good quality, combs his hair and brushes his shoes quite often, and looks presentable a great deal of the time.

Now Wife Is Sorry

But his wife is sorry about the change. Now she is the poorly-dressed member of the family. All the clothing money has been squandered on her husband's wardrobe.

For Easter, she'll be wearing the same clothes she wore last Easter. Doubt it if you like, but it's true. She hasn't had a new pair of shoes in a year. She has forgotten what it feels like to buy a hat.

Every time she looks at her well-dressed husband, radiating self-confidence like B.O., she wishes she had the old Jim back with baggy pants and all.

But it's too late. The old Jim has gone forever. There's only one hope. Maybe the presentable new Jim will be able to earn enough money, as a result of his sharper look, to buy her some new clothes without going further in debt. Maybe—by next Easter.

'Most-Wanted' Man Sent to Essondale

Daniel William O'Connor, once one of Canada's 10 most wanted men, has been committed to Essondale because of suspected depressive and suicidal moods, a spokesman for the attorney-general's department said yesterday.

O'Connor had been convicted on a forgery charge and an appeal was pending. He was slated to appear at Vernon spring assizes April 26 on an attempted murder charge. That trial will likely have to be postponed until he is judged medically fit to stand trial.

His forgery sentence could be worked out in Essondale.

Balloon Photos Find Cancer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Dime store balloons are being used with success as aids in detecting stomach cancer.

Dr. Owen H. Wangensteen, chief surgeon at the University of Minnesota, said the balloons are proving more accurate than X-rays in finding cancers in their early stages.

Dr. Wangensteen reported that 11 gastric ulcers and seven cases of cancer had been detected in the 50 cases on which the procedure has been used since last October.

"In fact, we detected cancers with the balloon method that the X-rays had missed," he said.

Patients suffering from suspicious stomach disorders swallow 500 millicuries of radioactive phosphorus 24 hours before the test. The patient then swallows a deflated balloon which has been coated on the inside with a sensitive emulsion in a darkroom.

When the balloon reaches the patient's stomach, it is inflated and left there for six hours. The emulsion picks up any of the radioactive phosphorus—absorbed by the cancerous tissue—which shows when the balloon is developed, like a camera film.

On Formosa

Thai Air Commander, 17 More Die in Crash

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—A Royal Thai Air Force passenger plane crashed and burned yesterday on a fog-shrouded hill near Taipei's international airport, killing the Thai air commander and 17 other persons.

The pilot had just radioed that everything was all right seconds before he plowed into the 1,000-foot, tree-covered hill that rises abruptly from the plains a mile from the Taipei airport.

The control tower was radioing him at the time to turn right to avoid the hill, but he did not get the message in time. When Mount Wu Tze loomed out of the mist, it was too late.

The plane was returning to Bangkok following a Pacific air force commanders' conference in Formosa. The victims included Air Marshal Chalermkiat Watanangura, air commander since 1957, and his wife.

TWO MISSING

By nightfall all bodies had been recovered except for that of the 20-year-old daughter of a Thai diplomatic official and the 18-month-old daughter of a Chinese Nationalist diplomat assigned to the embassy in Bangkok.

In addition to Watanangura, Air Vice-Marshal Sian Chitaphaiboo, Thai air itnelligence chief, and his wife were killed. The other victims were Thai military officials and three Chinese attached to the Nationalist embassy in Bangkok.

The plane hit with such force that wreckage and bodies were scattered over hundreds of yards.

CEREMONY GOES ON

The crash occurred an hour before the Thai ambassador and other members of the Taipei diplomatic corps assembled in a downtown park to watch Mme. Chiang Kai-shek unveil a bust to the late Gen. Claire Chennault, commander of the Flying Tigers in the Second World War. They went ahead with the ceremony, unaware of the tragedy.

Costliest Scrapping Since War

$276,000,000 Down Drain When Blue Streak Died

LONDON (CP)—The Blue Streak missile, whose death was announced in Parliament Wednesday, is the most expensive British defence project to be scrapped since the end of the Second World War.

Total cost of the long-range missile is estimated at more than £100,000,000 ($267,000,000) and defence sources say it may even rise higher when all implications are known. For defence purposes, it is a total loss.

No other single scrapped project has come close to the Blue Streak in terms of cash. It is five times as much as the post-war total spent on aircraft that failed to get into service.

Most major projects to be stopped concerned missiles, rockets and weapons.

The Orange William anti-tank rocket cost £5,000,000 before being written off. The Red Dean air-to-air missile was stopped after costing £8,000,000. The Super Bloodhound ground-to-air missile was cancelled at a price of £4,000,000.

A new version of the existing Blue Steel air-to-ground flying bomb was recently cancelled after an estimated £3,000,000 had been spent on it.

Since the war Britain has spent about £650,000,000 on developing 16 missiles. So far five are in service, five have been cancelled and six are still being developed.

assume an even larger share of education costs.

Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich said the minister's announcement was "gratifying if correct," and Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt termed it "not too bad," but hastily added that the province should assume the full burden.

Oak Bay's Reeve George Murdoch qualified his reaction that the bigger grant is "a step in the right direction" with the statement that municipal councils should not concern themselves so much over the school cost burden.

He said municipal projects must go ahead regardless of what schools are costing and that he would not advocate cutting of essential services "even if the school rate went to 22 mills."

He also said municipalities should be freed of the business of raising funds for school districts and suggested that the federal government add 2 per cent to the income tax scale and return the proceeds to provincial governments so that the provinces could pay the full cost of education.

Hoover Lauds Sunday School

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover has told Congress that "youths who regularly attend Sunday school do not become involved in juvenile criminal violations."

Hoover, in testimony published yesterday by a House appropriations subcommittee, cited a case where only 42 of some 8,000 delinquent children who appeared before one juvenile court judge had attended Sunday school regularly.

He said it was "even more striking" that none of these 8,000 children had a mother or father who regularly attended church.

Reds Open Drive

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (Reuters) — Vietnamese Communists have launched a new drive against the pro-Western government of South Viet Nam with a campaign of subversion and killing in the swampy rice-lands south and west of Saigon, authoritative government sources said Thursday.

The sources said captured Communist documents showed the aim of the drive was to replace the government of Premier Ngo Diem with a neutralist one and eventually take over the whole country.

Viet Nam was split into a Communist North and pro-Western South by the Geneva agreements of 1954.

First indications of stepped-up subversion came in October, just after the failure of the Communist campaign to persuade South Vietnamese to boycott their national assembly election in August, the sources said.

Cuban Rebels' Chances Slim

By ROBERT BERRELEZ

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—Villagers here in the Oriente Province foothills see little chance that an army captain rebelling against Fidel Castro can hold out for long against the prime minister.

All sources agree they have seen large movements of regular army troops in the foothills of the towering Sierra Maestra during the last few days. Castro himself is in command of the search through his old rebel mountain hideouts for Capt. Manuel Beaton.

The green and brown slopes of the Sierra above this village were obscured yesterday by low-hanging clouds. The spring rainy season is only beginning. Wild fruits and other edibles that could help Beaton and his band of about 50 men live off the land do not begin to ripen until the end of the month.

"If the campesinos peasants don't get him," said one storekeeper, "hunger will. There's nothing to eat up there for another month."

A news blackout continued in official quarters on the progress of the eight-day hunt, which appears concentrated on Beaton despite the reported presence of two other small rebel groups. Cuban newspaper men reported they located Castro in the hills but he told them to get out.

Duty-Free Shops Hit By Retail Merchants

TORONTO (CP) — The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada asked the federal government Wednesday to take measures against the proposed establishment of duty-free shops at Canadian border points.

In a letter to Prime Minister Diefenbaker the association said the duty-free shops would:

1. Operate only to advantage of promoters.
2. Lessen national revenue without compensating benefit to the economy.
3. Evolve a dual pricing system in Canadian retailing.
4. Disrupt normal competition.
5. Disturb inland travel and shopping of American tourists.
6. Motivate retaliatory measures in the United States.

High Cost of Drugs Due to Promotion

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Ohio state university medical expert told senate investigators yesterday that the high cost of new drugs could be reduced if drug companies toned down their advertising and promotional campaigns.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake of the university's school of medicine also said that most doctors would be wise to wait for an "impartial evaluation" of new drugs before using them.

"Physicians in general," he said, "should be skeptical of the descriptions of new drugs offered by pharmaceutical manufacturers in flamboyant brochures or advertisements."

Leake accused the advertisers of drugs of not being "very wise." "They seem to think that physicians are simpletons," he said.

The Man of Lorraine

SOME national leaders have the quality of magnetism, others have not. It may be a moot point whether a nation is best led by a spectacular person or a quiet one; outward characteristics are not always a true guide. It cannot be denied however that the dynamic leader arrests more attention, and if he has character to back up his external traits a nation may benefit both ways.

That is very much the case with the France of today. It may have been inevitable as well as fortuitous that she had Charles de Gaulle to turn to in distress—history has a way of throwing up the right man for the right moment—but luckily for her he manifests all the characteristics of a leader with immense personal magnetism. Nothing less than his individual aura would have pulled France out of her postwar morass.

President de Gaulle—or General as he will always be best known—might well be termed the inspiration of his country, representing its past and present. In his bearing and his philosophy he is the embodiment of French glory and grandeur, and it is this that is at the roof of his eminence. Critics may see in his pride of country undue assumption in respect of the power situation of the world today, but it is his resurrection of national pride that has given stability to a harassed and divided nation and brought order out of chaos.

President de Gaulle comes to Canada this weekend and Ottawa is aflutter at playing host to the creator of the Cross of Lorraine, the hero of Free France in wartime and its political saviour of today. Few visitors could evoke the excitement that this tall, dedicated, almost legendary figure has created in the Canadian capital. This is proof again that it is man and not event which is the greatest force in history. Like Churchill in his land, de Gaulle has become an immortal in his own.

"YOU LOOK SORT OF PALE YOURSELF."

Voting in Advance

WITH so many people on the move nowadays, the House of Commons would do well to implement the recommendation of its elections committee that the narrowly restrictive privilege of voting in an advance poll be extended to take in wider categories of travellers. At present the Canada Elections Act allows only members of the RCMP, fishermen, commercial travellers and employees of transportation services to use the advance poll.

Since the act was drafted the world has changed greatly, and every day of the year finds thousands of Canadians away from home. There are numerous legitimate reasons for voters to be absent from their own electorates on federal polling day. People for example who have planned vacation journeys far in advance find themselves with the alternatives of foregoing the opportunity to vote or of abandoning the holiday. Almost everyone in those circumstances would choose the former. Again there are countless people not in the category of commercial travellers who must undertake journeys for business, family or health reasons. Under the present regulations they are deprived of the vote if election day occurs during their absence from home.

In every federal election thousands of votes must be lost for reasons such as these. In cases where the date of absence is known far enough ahead of time it would be a simple matter for travellers to record their votes at advance polls if the present restrictions were brought more into line with modern living. It is not suggested that the advance poll should be thrown open to all comers. A disadvantage to the country as well as to those concerned would be removed, however, if the privilege were extended to any who made a declaration, under oath if necessary, that they would be absent from their own ridings on election day. Safeguards against abuse of that privilege should not be too hard to devise.

Courage in the North

ONCE in a while the hard circumstances of life on the frontiers of Canada are thrown into sharp relief by threat of disaster, and the response of human courage which that evokes. All Canada must have been thrilled this week by the account of how two women stopped a plague of influenza in an acute form from wiping out a settlement of 200 Eskimoes and others at Coppermine, in the Northwest Territories. A returning Eskimo hunter brought back the virus which in a few days afflicted almost the entire population of the Arctic coast settlement. Medical stores were exhausted, food was scarce, and the influenza epidemic if unchecked could have wiped out everyone there.

That the epidemic was stemmed, without any loss of life, seems to have been the work principally of two courageous women: Dr. Elizabeth Cass, an eye-specialist on a routine visit to Coppermine, and Nurse Mary A. Dawson who assisted her. Night and day without break for a week they worked over those stricken by the disease, isolated others who had not contracted it, and with help reorganized the life of the community on an emergency basis so effective that the epidemic was halted. The men of the community also performed wonders in the acquisition and conservation of dwindling food stores, the feeding of hundreds of sleigh dogs, and the emergency life of Coppermine.

It seems a pity that Canada has not developed a suitable form for recognition of such sterling services, beyond the ordinary call of duty. Military awards are not suitable. A certificate from the Royal Humane Society, honored in its own field, is scarcely enough in such instances. There should be some form of parliamentary citation or other acknowledged honor which, together with its certificate or medal, would express the thanks of the nation properly. Dr. Cass and Nurse Dawson were not looking for honors; yet they both took their lives in their hands in bringing the very real threat of disaster to a most fortunate ending. They have won admiration of the nation.

Interpreting the News

Border Is Disputed

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

IN thinly disguised diplomatic language India and Red China have been calling each other names since last fall.

The dispute arises from Red China's suddenly-proclaimed demands on about 50,000 square miles of territory ruled either from treaty or tradition by India.

The debate resumes this month in a face-to-face meeting at New Delhi between Premier Nehru and Premier Chou En-lai.

Preceding the meeting was a Chinese note delivered to New Delhi on April 3 in which the Chinese stayed with their previous demands, but noted that "thanks to the efforts of the Chinese and Indian governments and peoples, the once-strained relations between China and India have been improved."

Any improvement, which the Chinese profess to note is invisible to the Indians.

Nehru has said that Chou's reception would be polite, but at the same time he has cautioned the Indian people about their behavior toward their guest. The route Chou takes from the airport into New Delhi will be closely guarded, and will avoid areas where violence might erupt. Other extraordinary precautions will be taken for Chou's safety.

Further, it is apparent that if concessions are to be made the Chinese expect it will be the Indians who make them.

In its April 3 note, Red China expressly denied that the Simla Convention of 1913-14 discussed the boundary question between India and China.

That convention, held at Simla in the Punjab north of New Delhi set up the McMahon line which India claims is the Sino-Indian border. In 1914 and 1919, the Chinese repudiated their spokesman's signature on the Simla Convention; but it is the Indian contention that the repudiation dealt only with the boundary between Tibet and China, and not the boundary between India and Tibet. Since Red China has taken over Tibet it is that boundary which is one of those in dispute.

The boundary between India and China runs for 2,200 miles and follows the line of mountains and watersheds drawn at the Simla conference by Britain's plenipotentiary, Henry McMahon. In some areas the border runs through land totally uninhabited. In others, there are primitive tribes.

Luck and Skill

Exquisite Hypocrisy

By CASSANDRA, from London

DARTS is a game of skill. Bar billiards is a game of skill. But dominoes is not a game of skill. Thus our masters of the legal side of the Home Office who decide these things in the interests of law, good order and morality.

Mr. Vosper, under-secretary of the Home Office, has just announced that the government will legalize bets on the first two games, but not the third.

What hair-splitting humbug this all is. Luck enters into darts, billiards and dominoes in varying degrees.

The other preposterous pretence carefully maintained is that football pools are not lotteries but pursuits of skill. Many years of scholarship are needed to pick 'em out with that highly technical instrument, the pin.

Great attraction about football pools is that any fool can join in and start level with the most knowledgeable expert in the world and stand an equal chance of winning a quarter of a million pounds and also an equal chance of not winning a quarter of a million pounds.

Mr. Vosper and his parliamentary friends are at great care to protect us from the moral turpitude of gaming. How we British love these exquisitely-contrived hypocrisies.

I REMEMBER staggering over the boundary fence at Gander Airport once in a petrol-laden, passenger-stuffed Boeing Stratocruiser when one of the engines suddenly packed up.

I was sitting right alongside the propeller watching it when it stopped revolving and I remember thinking to myself: "No, please not that. You can't just pack up on ME over the tops of the fir trees."

Some minutes later the captain's voice came over the loudspeaker saying: "In the interests of greater safety we have stopped number three engine."

Next to me was a sardonic passenger who growled: "If three engines are better than four, why not stop the darn lot—in the interest of greater safety!"

These reflections come to mind after having read a nice story in "Flight" about a Boeing 707 jet aircraft that was just about to take off from New York's Idlewild Airport the other day. The captain switched on the intercom and addressed his passengers in confident cordiality. He said:

"Good morning ladies and gentlemen. This is your captain speaking. We will be cruising today at an altitude of approximately 34,000 ft. and the weather will be clear and smooth. Our route will take us over Chicago and Denver. We have a fine steak dinner planned for you with cocktails . . ."

The skipper then mistakenly thought he had switched off the public address system and turned to his co-pilot and delivered this comment which came over the loudspeaker strong and clear:

"Yeah, Frank, we'll give 'em all that junk if I can just get this big fat monster into the air!"

From the Scriptures

Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: we establish the law.—Romans, 3:31.

Reports from Ottawa

ONE of the first rules of modern merchandizing is to put a name on your product that will impress. And Madison Avenue could not have come up with a more impressive tag for the 274-year-old Chignecto Canal proposal than "Atlantic Seaway."

It's a name to conjure with. Atlantic, with its connotation of grey-green seas breaking over battered ships, of convoys and corvettes, of the hard strength of the rocky coast and the hard strength of the people thereof.

And the word "seaway" — what prestige it lends to a 16-mile ditch between New Brunswick and Nova Scotia! In a world full of canals there is only one seaway, the great St. Lawrence Seaway from Montreal to Duluth, 1,342 miles inland. Now, Diefenbaker willing, we will have a second seaway.

Of course, there may be some confusion, when people speak of "the seaway," as to which seaway is meant. But that difficulty is more apparent than real. After all, so far as Maritimers are concerned there has never been more than one "island"—namely, Prince Edward Island. This may be a shock to British Columbians, but it just goes to show the parochialism of the Maritimes, where they don't even know that "the island" is a designation reserved exclusively for Vancouver Island.

The trouble with "Chignecto" is that few persons other than Maritimers can (a) remember it, (b) spell it, (c) pronounce it, or (d) know where it is, and (e) what it means.

That could be why New Brunswickers have begged in vain, since long before Confederation, for London and Ottawa to build the Chignecto Canal.

As a former Maritimer, I have no trouble on items (a) to (d), but I never did know the answer to (e). So with the revival of agitation for the project, I set out to find it. "Chignecto," I learned, comes from a Micmac Indian word meaning "foot cloth" — presumably some kind of woven moccasin.

"Foot Cloth Canal." Phooey, Madison Avenue would say. It doesn't impress.

But Ottawa is not likely to say phooey to the Atlantic Seaway, if only because the Conservative government of Premier Hugh John Flemming faces an election this year. An undertaking to conduct a full-scale engineering and economic inquiry into the plan would help Flemming at the polls, and wouldn't cost much.

Federal government egineers did an on-the-spot study two years ago, and estimated the canal would cost more than $138,000,000. The Chignecto Canal Committee headed by Flemming — they haven't got around to changing its name yet—has an estimate of $90,000,000 from Montreal engineering consultants.

More important than the capital cost is the potential economic value of the project. Would there be enough traffic through the canal so that tolls over 50 years, say, would repay the canal's cost? Would the canal generate enough new industrial activity in the area so that indirect benefits would outweigh any failure of the canal to be self-liquidating? Transport Minister Hees said in the Commons March 30 that he is "not in a position to comment" on the results of economic studies of the project.

But New Brunswickers are spurred by the offer of industrialist K. C. Irving to invest $100,000,000 in new industrial plant if the canal is built. They know the Diefenbaker government went ahead with the South Saskatchewan Dam project despite an adverse economic report by a royal commission in 1952. And so they're going for broke for their Atlantic Seaway.

The Packsack

Butterless Bread

By GREGORY CLARK

MR. KHRUSHCHEV quoted a Russian proverb: "The cat that has tasted butter never forgets the flavor."

Butter is always getting a boost like that. In our own language there are dozens of proverbs and allusions that butter butter up. But in the opinion of some, myself included, butter is highly over-rated.

In that old far-off war 40 years ago I was the guest of three French officers at the famous cafe in Boulogne called Money's. I had had the privilege of being of some assistance to one of their comrades, a pilot, who had been shot down in our lines.

They ordered the dinner, starting with moules marinieres, a sort of stew of tiny black clams; then chicken roasted on a spit; then veal cutlets with a famous sauce. There was typical lovely French bread. But no butter.

I observed the French officers using the bread as a sort of sponge between bites. A sip of wine. Then a pinch of bread. A forkful of veal. Then a small swipe of that glutinous, gorgeous bread.

I followed suit. My opinion thus for 40 years has been that butter spoils the flavor of bread. Good bread, that is.

Policy for Canada

CANADIAN policy should be based on a policy of aligned neutralism. We should dissociate ourselves from the extreme policies of the United States; repudiate nuclear weapons and nuclear warfare; declare that we will put our conventional forces at the disposal of the United Nations (which is reputedly the cornerstone of our foreign policy) and steadfastly maintain the right with all the moral persuasion we can muster. In the councils of the world we are being called "handmaiden," "satellite," "powder monkey," and other pejorative names which are manifestly unjust. But if we continue along the lines we have been pursuing they may well have become accurate descriptions.

Little Understood

Africa's Anguish

By R. W. HAMBLETT

The writer, now living at Brentwood Bay, served in South Africa for 10 years in the employ of a Canadian corporation.

WITH the possible exception of residerits in the Deep South, it is impossible for Canadians and Americans to understand the problem of South Africa. They have never faced it in their own lives and experience. Current reporting has not been particularly helpful. Only from living and working for a period of years in that prodigiously beautiful, fantastic and tragic country can full appreciation of the problem be achieved.

Very little publicity has been given to the attitudes and opinions of the white population and government of South Africa and their problems. World-wide criticism has been heaped upon them. There has been little in the way of sympathy, understanding, or offer of help in a tragic situation. Russia seems to have been strangely silent. It need not be doubted that in South Africa there has been much fishing in troubled waters, exactly as elsewhere in the world. Sharpeville was a situation made to order for the fishermen.

Before Canadians, be they university students, labor bodies or governments, go too far out on the "holier than thou" limb of condemnation it may be well to ask ourselves a question. What would our attitude be if in addition to our present white population our borders also encompassed a further sixty million colored people of races whose standard of culture is in general much below that of our North American Indian?

We shall also do well to remember that the white South Africans of today are about the same number of generations away from the first settlers as Canadians are from their pioneer forbears.

The same sort of blood, tears, toil and sweat has been expended over generations in South Africa to develop the country as has been spent here. The native races of the Union, no longer engaging in slaughterous tribal wars, have benefited hugely from all this effort—and will benefit progressively.

When criticizing the pass laws perhaps it should be remembered that they are no innovation. General Smuts in his lifetime was idolized by Western nations. Even under his administration in South Africa the pass laws were in full force.

No brief can possibly be held for legalized murder on the grand scale by governments nor for brutalities of any kind. No attempt is made to do so. Doubtless there has been unwisdom in governmental policies — and where is the government which has never been unwise? The Afrikaner has been laggard in his attempts to raise the cultural standards of his black brother. Even so, wholesale condemnation in the absence of deep understanding and a sympathetic approach to the problem will do much to hinder and nothing to help.

The mind inevitably goes back to Hungary. The numbers killed, imprisoned and persecuted will never be known. Russia told the world bluntly to mind its own business and, broadly speaking, the world has had to do just that. Of course Russia is a big power. The Union of South Africa is hardly a "power" at all. Should that make any difference?

Just in passing, Canada along with other countries accepted large numbers of Hungarian refugees. Suppose the Canadian government offered to accept, say, 50,000 Negro "refugees?" In the light of the immensity of the problem, such a gesture would be meaningless. But just what would be the domestic reaction to such a gesture? It is not hard to guess.

To have no distinction between race, creed or color of skin is a beautiful ideal. It will be reached some day; more quickly in some places than in others. In South Africa it will of necessity be slow in coming.

Meanwhile, when we feel tempted to endorse the universal suffrage idea for South Africa and press it upon the South African government, we may do well to pause for a moment and reflect upon that imaginary 60,000,000 additional inhabitants of Canada—all of them black.

Would the Western nations, the United Nations or anybody else give us any guarantee of protection for the institutions and properties built up by the efforts and energy of our forbears and further developed by present generations?

Better for us before indulging in condemnation to realize the necessity and wisdom of hastening slowly.

And as a young country ourselves perhaps we should think "There, but for the Grace of God" (or luck for those who prefer to think that way) "goes Canada."

Less Barbarous

It is to be hoped that very few will concur with Dr. Brock Chisholm's suggestion to "imagine" the throttling of one's humiliators, instead of working it out in some other way. The Bible says "Love your enemies," and "Pray for them that despitefully use you," surely a much less barbarous method.

Woodpecker's Warning

With all respect to Mr. Davidson's suggestion that the woodpecker hammering on a roof is calling a mate: the woodpecker's call is loud and shrill and must be much more easily heard than a mere drumming sound.

Years ago an ornithologist in England told me that when the bird attacks a roof, instead of shooting it the people concerned had better examine their roof. Termites, beetles and suchlike pests are busy there, and with the same instinct which enables a robin to pounce on an invisible worm and drag it out, so the woodpecker senses the insects and grubs in the roof.

As the same man said, the bird is not making holes for fun; he is looking for a meal. Also he said that no sound wood is ever attacked by a woodpecker.

Patchwork Socialism

The article in the Colonist of April 10 by the CCF Commons leader, Mr. Argue, stated that given the opportunity the CCF could abolish unemployment, exploitation and poverty. Who does he think he's kidding? I'm sure the majority of the people know that you cannot make a feather bed with a patchwork quilt.

The record shows that capitalism can't exist without the above evils; and trying to make this system work better is the whole fabric of the CCF platform.

Court Order Delays Rebrin Deportation

VANCOUVER (CP) — The deportation of Irene Rebrin was halted, at least temporarily, by a court order Thursday, hours before she was to be put on a plane for Brazil.

Mr. Justice T. G. Norris ordered her held to appear in Supreme Court in Vancouver next Tuesday at which time the immigration department will have to show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued.

Such a writ would order Miss Rebrin's release.

Miss Rebrin, an attractive 33-year-old University of British Columbia lecturer in Russian, is held in immigration cells, where she was taken Wednesday afternoon.

She was first ordered deported because she is a stateless person. Later Immigration Minister Fairclough and Prime Minister Diefenbaker said she is a security risk.

Officials said she was arrested Wednesday because she refused to leave the country voluntarily by Friday.

Gordon Dowding, CCF member of the B.C. Legislature and Miss Rebrin's lawyer, sought a writ of habeas corpus and a writ of certiorari. The latter would bring the deportation order before the courts.

Hearing Slated Tuesday

Mr. Justice Norris accepted the application and ordered the immigration department to appear Tuesday to show cause why the writs should not be issued. If the immigration department does not convince the court that its case is sound, the court may order Miss Rebrin's release and an airing of the deportation order in court.

River Rising

Winnipeg Starts Filling Sandbags

WINNIPEG (CP) — Flood protection operations went into high gear Thursday night after city officials returned from an airborne survey of the rising Red and Assiniboine Rivers.

City works committee chairman Ald. Albert Bennett authorized an emergency expenditure of $2,000 to cover sandbagging operations in low-lying residential areas in the northeast section of the city along the Red.

The city engineering department put men to work filling some of the 90,000 sandbags held in reserve for flood protection. The bags are to be used this morning to fill gaps in secondary dikes.

At 11 p.m. the Red had risen to 20 feet above average ice level—a jump of nearly one foot since 3 p.m. Flooding of some low-lying parks and unoccupied land started at 18 feet above average ice level.

Serious flooding is not expected unless the river rises to 26 feet.

Mayor Stephen Juba called a special meeting of city council for Saturday morning to discuss the potential problems.

2,000 Mink In Flight To Tokyo

EDMONTON (CP)—A four-engined transport plane carrying a cargo of 2,000 squealing, nervous mink stopped off at the Edmonton airport Thursday on a flight to Tokyo from Holland.

The mink are being shipped to Japan to form the nucleus of a fur industry.

Teslin Lake stretches more than 70 miles, part in British Columbia and part in the Yukon, along the Alaska Highway.

Aid to Poor Nations Splits Little Summit

WASHINGTON (CP) — Britain and the United States Thursday sidetracked French pleas they join Russia in stepping up economic aid and cutting weapons shipments to underdeveloped countries.

Foreign ministers of the Big Three Western allies disagreed on the issues as they wound up a pre-summit harmony conference.

The dispute somewhat dulled their success in forging an otherwise solid front on the Berlin, German and disarmament problems their chiefs will discuss with Soviet Premier Khrushchev at next month's summit conference in Paris.

U.S. State Secretary Christian Herter teamed with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to block approval of the French proposal advanced at the last session by Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

After some discussion, all three agreed to hand over the controversial proposition, favored by French President de Gaulle, to a committee of allied diplomats for further study.

Allied spokesmen said disagreement on what they called fringe issues was unimportant compared to their success.

Death Ends Safety Mark

MEDICINE HAT (CP) — This city's record of 1,980 days without a traffic fatality ended late Thursday when Marilyn Shortreed, 10, of Calgary, was killed when a car driven by her father collided with the rear of a truck just inside the city limits.

City officials were busy preparing for celebrations marking the 2,000th day without a fatal traffic accident.

Hungry Man Returns Cash ...Doesn't Even Get Thanks

VANCOUVER (CP)—Frank Lazar's conscience is clear, but his pocket and stomach are still empty after a brief encounter with untold wealth.

The 23-year-old Hungarian immigrant was standing on a downtown sidewalk last week wondering where his next meal was coming from when a small fortune was dropped at his feet.

Two armored car attendants were wheeling a cartload of money into a bank when a bag crammed with paper money fell off the cart. They didn't miss it.

Frank, who exists on $11 a week in unemployment benefits, pondered whether to take it home or give it back.

Deciding honesty was the best course, he chased the men into the bank and gave them the bag.

"They were dumbfounded," said Frank. "They just gasped in horror when they realized what they had done.

"They didn't even thank me," he added ruefully.

Union Chief on Trial

Victim of Assault Identifies Attacker

BRANDON (CP) — A 20-year-old assault victim Thursday identified John Olver, president of the Brandon local of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CLC), as one of two men who beat him up March 22 in an incident connected with a strike at Brandon Packers Ltd.

Olver, president of Local 255, is charged with assault causing bodily harm to Harry Cote of Dunrea, Man. He pleaded not guilty as the trial opened Thursday.

Another member of Local 255, Joseph Tarnowski, is charged with common assault in connection with the same incident. He is to stand trial at a later date.

Local 255 has been on strike against Brandon Packers since Feb. 29.

Easter Sunrise Service Will Be Held in Park

Seventeenth annual Sunrise Service will be held Sunday morning at 7.45 a.m. in Beacon Hill Park, sponsored by the Victoria Camp of The Gideons International in Canada.

It will be one of the major services in several special Easter services in Greater Victoria churches.

As in former years, the service will be held on the high, rocky ground just east of the roadway entering the park from the Douglas and Michigan Street intersection at South Park School. Ample parking space will be available, and a public address system will be set up to allow those attending to remain in their cars if they wish without missing any of the service.

* * *

The Easter message will be given by Rev. Theo. W. Chapman, pastor of the Christian Missionary and Alliance Church. Music will be supplied by the Salvation Army Band under bandmaster William Hastings with Major Frank Watson, commanding officer of the Citadel Corps, as song leader.

Bandsman Edwin J. Carr will present a coronet solo, with vocal solos by Allan Husband and Marjorie Sturgess.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Anglicans Make History in Arctic

First Eskimo Priest

EDMONTON (CP)—Church history will be made this month during an Arctic tour by clergy and laymen of the Anglican Church of Canada when the Rt. Rev. D. B. Marsh, bishop of the Arctic, ordains the first Eskimo to become a priest.

The ordination will take place at Rankin Inlet, 300 miles north of Churchill, Man., on Hudson Bay. The priest, Armand Tagoona, about 35, was made a deacon of the church May 3 by Bishop Marsh.

The ordination will be held April 28 toward the end of a three-week tour scheduled to start at Edmonton airport today. The tour will take the six men, three clergy and three laymen, to 19 points and cover nearly 5,000 air miles.

POND INLET

The most northerly point on the tour will be Pond Inlet on Baffin Island, more than 400 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

The three clergymen making the tour are Bishop Marsh, whose office is in Toronto; Bishop Ivor Norris of Brandon, chairman of the executive committee for the Missionary Society of the church, and Canon A. H. Davis of Toronto, general secretary of the society.

The three laymen are E. C. Cameron of Toronto, Gordon Fairburn of Ottawa, and F. H. Wooding of Toronto, supervisor of information for the church.

FIRST TIME

It marks the first time in Anglican Church history a group of such size and prominence has undertaken such a tour.

Speaking for the group, Mr. Wooding said in an interview the trip is necessary because of the huge development of the North in recent years and the increasing responsibility of the church to the people of the North.

Mr. Wooding said 80 per cent of the natives in the North are Anglican — about 9,500 of 11,000 persons.

Since the first missionary went to Fort George in 1852, the number of missionaries in the field has risen to 20 priests and catechists—church-trained Eskimo laymen.

Churches Will Be Filled

Thousands of Victorians Will Mark Good Friday

Thousands of people from the Greater Victoria area are expected to fill city churches to overflowing today for special Good Friday services commemorating the death of Christ on the Cross.

While young children look forward to Sunday for the annual fun of Easter-egg hunting, the older children will be accompanying parents to church today.

Congregations from churches in the Greater Victoria Ministerial Association will gather at First United Church at 2 p.m. for a presentation of "Three Hours At The Cross."

Ministers and choirs from Metropolitan United, Emmanuel Baptist, St. Aidan's United, St. Andrew's, Presbyterian, Fairfield United and Esquimalt United Church will participate in the service. Theme for the day will be "The Seven Words Of Christ."

Among the ministers conducting the sermon will be Rev. D. B. Sparling, Rev. S. H. Cassells, Rev. J. H. James, Rev. E. A. Hornby, Rev. C. L. Streight, Capt. Donald Graham and Rev. Cecil Barner.

The service is designed to commemorate some of the time Jesus spent on the Cross.

At Christ Church Cathedral, a young people's service will be held at 9.30 a.m., followed by Mattins and Ante-Communion at 10.30, and the Three Hours Devotion, conducted by Rt. Rev. Ralph S. Dean from noon to 3 p.m.

Readings from the Passion Narratives will be given at 8. The Cathedral choir, with guest soloists Margaret Abbott and John Dunbar, and flautist Maurice Crawford and oboeist John Getgood will also take part in the evening service.

A special service of morning meditations is scheduled at The Church of Our Lord starting at 11 a.m.

* * *

Central Baptist Church will hold its Good Friday service at 7.45 p.m.

* * *

Captain Dean Goffin, national secretary for Salvation Army bands and Songster brigades in Great Britain, will conduct the evening service at the Victoria Citadel Corps at 8 p.m.

* * *

Guest speaker at the Apostolic Temple will be Rev. R. A. Reynolds, a former pastor of the church. Candidates for Baptism will be immersed at the service, which starts at 8 p.m.

* * *

Vera Barclay will direct the Oak Bay United Church Choir in a performance of Stainer's "Crucifixion" at 8 p.m. in the church auditorium.

Pope John Kisses Feet

ROME (AP)—Pope John bent low yesterday to wash and kiss the feet of 13 student priests in a humble Holy Week ceremony.

For the first time in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic Church the young priests included Negroes, a Japanese, an Indian and a Polynesian as well as several Caucasians.

Courtroom Parade

More Courtesy, Fewer Charges

More driver courtesy would mean fewer cases reaching police court, Magistrate William Ostler said yesterday.

His comment came as he fined Harry Haigh, 1586 Rockland, $20 after finding him guilty on a charge of careless driving.

In this instance, said the magistrate, both drivers were driving slowly enough for the collision to have been avoided had either driver made an effort to do so. He found accused guilty only on his own admission that he had not looked at all in the direction from which the other car came.

Also in city court, Frank Douglas Elford, 1577 Derby, was fined $250 and his licence suspended after pleading guilty to impaired driving.

Police said Elford's car struck a power pole about 2 a.m. yesterday at Quadra and Cormorant.

* * *

In a brief session of Oak Bay court yesterday, William Alvin Big Canoe, 201 Baillie, also pleaded guilty to impaired driving, was fined $250 and had his licence suspended.

Court was told that about 4 a.m. yesterday the car driven by accused struck a parked vehicle at 2024 Oak Bay Avenue, pushing it in turn into another parked car. The middle car, police said, was almost demolished.

Years of Labor Lost Because of Cancer

Cancer in Canada causes a loss of more than 55,000 man-years of labor annually, Robert Barrie, president of Victoria Labor Council, said last night.

Mr. Barrie appealed for support to the annual Conquer Cancer Campaign, being held in Victoria this month.

Donations should be sent to the campaign's headquarters, 816 Wharf Street.

"Besides causing great distress to many Canadians and the death of more than 22,000 of our citizens each year, cancer is responsible for a considerable decrease in earning power," he said.

"The Canadian Cancer Society is making a real effort to counteract this by an active industrial education program. Many industries already have cancer control committees and many more are being organized."

These committees are teaching the facts about cancer, together with the importance of early diagnosis and treatment, Mr. Barrie explained.

"Besides this, the thousands of Society volunteers—which, we are proud to say, include many representatives of organized labor — conduct a vital program to support cancer research, educate the public and provide assistance to cancer patients."

Atom Test Talks Inch Ahead

Russia to Join Scientific Discussion

GENEVA (Reuters) — East-West efforts to prohibit nuclear tests inched forward Thursday as Russia agreed to joint scientific talks on the detection of underground explosions.

British, American and Soviet delegations all expressed optimism their 17-month-old conference is finally heading toward a formal treaty to ban nuclear testing.

They then adjourned until April 25. The delegation chiefs are returning to their three respective capitals to report on their promising work.

In contrast, the 10-nation disarmament conference here broke up for a four-day Easter recess with no signs of progress. The talks began March 15.

Western officials said, however, they are not pessimistic about the deadlock over how to proceed. They said it is unlikely the conference will get off the ground until the heads of government discuss disarmament at the Paris summit talks next month.

Engineer Leaves Capsule After Seven Days, Nights

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The United States space flight effort took another forward step Thursday when an engineer emerged from seven days and nights in a sealed capsule where his oxygen supply came entirely from a "miraculous chemical."

The test, the air force said, also marked the longest sustained trial in a manned capsule of other self-contained life-sustaining equipment, including a process enabling a man to re-use the water from his own exhaled breath and urine for drinking water.

NOBODY EVER BUILT ONE LIKE THIS BEFORE

In the new Triumph Herald we've built a miracle. The Herald is a miracle of inspired styling by world-famous designer Michelotti. It's a miracle of unbelievable comfort, from a driver's seat that adjusts 45 different ways—for leg-room, height, and tilt—to a ride that can't be bettered, because the Herald has independent suspension on all four wheels. It's a miracle of driving ease, with light, sensitive steering that lets you park in a space only inches longer than the car. The Herald is a miracle of safety, with control-tower visibility, impactoscopic steering column, safety crush dash, extra large front brakes: it's a miracle of economy, with normal greasing eliminated for once a year maintenance, and 35-40 m.p.g. Plus the straight luxury of carpets, heater, windshield washers. And biggest miracle of all, the Triumph Herald costs only $1895. To appreciate this miracle, you need to drive the Herald. Why don't you do just that! At your Standard-Triumph dealer's.

TRIUMPH HERALD

IT'S THE NEW EXPERIENCE IN MOTORING!

Independent suspension on all four wheels—Shares with a few high-priced cars the unique feature of independent suspension on all four wheels. Combined with front engine and rear drive this gives you unsurpassed ride, road holding, cornering and safety.

No more greasing worries—Steering ball joints need no lubrication whatever. Nylon and bonded rubber are used on front and rear suspension points. Only wheel hubs, water pump and steering box require attention every 12,000 miles of normal driving.

Front seat adjustable 45 different ways—Here's a seat that you can raise, lower, move forwards or back, and adjust for tilt. And to make your comfort even more custom built, the steering wheel is adjustable, too.

Control tower visibility—The Herald's design gives you a clear, uninterrupted view all around. Windshield washers are fitted as standard equipment.

Blue Chip Industrials Pace Rise

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks met some late support which turned early irregularity into firmness. Trading picked up slightly on the late buying.

Despite the late strength brokers saw the list continuing its recent backing and filling movement until the news background improves somewhat.

Blue chip industrials paced the late upsurge. International Nickel, Eastman Kodak and Owens Illinois all jumped more than a point, and American Telephone rose ¾ to 93, a new 31-year high.

Universal Match was the individual star, rising more than 6 points on a good earnings report. A report of record first-quarter sales helped lift Vendo about 4.

IBM fell about 3 on profit taking. Magnavox rose about 1, while other electronics issues were irregular.

Steels turned early easiness into fractional gains. A good sales report lifted American Motors a large fraction in active dealings. Other motor stocks firmed.

Beech Aircraft rose more than 2 in further response to a good earnings report and possibility of a stock split.

Polaroid moved up close to 2 points after being down as much as 2¾ points. Rails favored the downside. Utilities steadied.

Alberta Gas Sags

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials and western oils traded still lower at the close and dragged the stock market down with them.

Alberta Gas led industrials lower, off 1⅛ at 22¼, with Canadian Ice Machine A off a point at 10½. Argus and B.C. Power slipped ⅜ at 29⅝ and 32¼.

On the winning side, Canadian Permanent Mortgage went ahead 2½ at 53½, Ford of Canada was up 1⅞ at 149⅞, and Building Products gained a point at 34. Canadian Pacific Railway gained ¼ at 26¼.

Mines also had a depressing day. Labrador dropped ½ at 22½, while Cassiar, Dome, Mining Corporation of Canada and Noranda all dropped ⅛ at 12⅝, 20⅝, 11 and 40⅝. Hudson Bay was up ⅛ at 44⅝.

Canadian Superior paced Western oil losers, down ⅝ at 10, while Home Oil B slipped 30 cents at $9.25, Hudson's Bay fell ⅛ at 12¼ and Bailey Selburn and Royalite dropped 10 cents at $6.60 and $8.90. Great Plains went ahead 10 cents at $9.60.

Oils Decline

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian Stock exchanges wandered lower with the Easter holiday taking the sparkle out of the market.

International Nickel rose 1¾ at 104¾ in base metals, a new high, Asbestos dropped ¾ at 24 and Noranda fell ½ at 40½.

International Utilities increased ¾ at 35¼, and B.C. Power at 32¼ eased ½.

BA Oil at 30½, Imperial Oil at 33¼ and Texaco at 56½ were all down ½ and Trans-Canada was off ¼ at 21½.

Canadian Celanese was down ¼ at 19.

B.C. Stocks Pick Up

VANCOUVER — Industrials picked up to make a brighter show. Leading the advance were the pulp and forest industries. MacMillan Powell rose to $16⅛; B.C. Forest Products to $12⅞, and Westminster Paper to $34.

B.C. Power closed $32⅝ after dropping to $32⅜. Canadian Collieries closed firm at $9⅞, while Consolidated Smelters was strong at $18¼. Pipelines eased with Trans-Canada $21⅝.

Mines were easier with Giant Mascot at 25 cents; Pacific Nickel at 60 cents, Cariboo Gold at 95 cents and Torwest at 10½ cents.

Oils did little.

Grain Market

WINNIPEG (CP) — Flax turned irregular in a moderately active trade.

In the early stages, some buying came from various interests, prompted by stronger linseed oil markets abroad and reports that the United States government had sold surplus linseed oil at higher prices than previously received.

Export interest in all grains was slow, due to the Easter holiday. The United Kingdom was reported to have purchased small parcel lots of Canadian flax and a small quantity of Canadian barley.

Oats and barley trade was quiet with prices showing narrow changes. Rye trade was confined to a local business with prices firm on reports of unfavorable growing conditions in Poland, a major rye producing nation.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Japan, 400,000 bushels; United Kingdom, 500,000; West Germany, 20,000, and El Salvadore, a small lot.

Housing Slump Threat to Jobs

Slowdown Could Derail Economy, Says Builder

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

A warning that the slowdown in home construction could wreck the Canadian economy was made yesterday by John Caulfield, vice-president of the Home Builders Association in Toronto.

Mr. Caulfield said that residential construction in Canada had fallen 49 per cent in the first three months of 1960 from the corresponding period of 1959.

He said the industry estimates that housing construction for the year would be down by 30 per cent. This would mean wide-spread unemployment in the building industry, he declared.

INFLATION FEARED

Bright spots in the U.S. economy, and government beliefs that 1960 is going to be the most prosperous in history are reported to be responsible for the Federal Reserve Board decision not to take any credit easing moves at the present time.

A tightening of the short term money supply had increased the borrowing rate in the U.S. for three-month treasury bills by almost 1 per cent during the past week.

DIP FROM PEAK

Nickel for Japan

B.C. Mine Operates After 37-Year Wait

VANCOUVER (CP)—A mine 100 miles from Vancouver with a chequered history that starts with its discovery in 1923 now is a producer of nickel-copper with a three-year contract.

Millions of dollars were poured into the mine without little ore being produced. Today, under the name of Giant Nickel Mines Ltd. it is producing on a contract for the Sumitomo Metal Mining Company of Japan.

Sale of concentrates will return an estimated $10 a ton of ore which is produced at a cost of $4.75.

Known reserves are 950,000 tons.

The main ore body was discovered in 1923 by Carl Zofka, a trapper. In 1929 B.C. Nickel Mines was organized and development started. Between 1933 and 1937 a group poured $1,000,000 into the mine but there was no market.

In 1952 Newmont Mining Corporation organized Western Nickel Mines Ltd. in which it held 51 per cent interest.

Newmont spent about $2,600,000 to build a 1,000-ton mill on the strength of a contract it arranged in Europe in 1957. The contract was cancelled in 1958 and Newmont received $2,500,000.

Giant Mascot Mines Ltd. took over Newmont's 51 per cent in 1959 for $275,000 and a new operating subsidiary, Giant Nickel was organized.

Bulk concentrates containing 10 per cent nickel and a small quantity of copper are being trucked to Vancouver for shipment.

The first cargo, between 3,000 and 3,800 tons, will be shipped May 10.

The mine will employ about 150 men with a payroll of some $65,000 a month.

Business As Usual

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Lawrence Ranta, president of the Greater Vancouver Community Chest and Councils, said Wednesday the Chest will be doing business as usual during the investigation being conducted by the newly-named Citizens' Survey of Health and Welfare.

He told the group the Chest did not intend to sit back and wait for the survey to wind up. He even suggested the structure of the Chest might change while the survey was going on.

Calf Eyes To Gaze At Shoppers

Shoppers on Eaton's third floor Monday need not be alarmed if they see the big eyes of a calf gazing at them. It's just part of a display of the South Vancouver Island 4-H clubs.

There will be Jersey, Holstein, Ayrshire and beef club calves on exhibit along with representatives from the rabbits, goats and poultry.

A downstairs display window will carry exhibits of 4-H tractor, garden and sewing clubs.

Members of all the clubs represented will be on hand to answer questions. The exhibition, beginning Monday, will last all week.

War Service Will Count

The provincial cabinet yesterday approved an order which will allow service with the forces of the Crown in any war to be calculated for civil servants' vacation leave entitlement.

The new provision will apply after an employee has completed one year's service with the provincial government.

Heavy Shocks Injure Two

Two men are in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from electric shock in the wake of high winds that caused many power and telephone interruptions overnight Wednesday but did little structural damage.

James Drinkwater, 142 South Turner, a lineman for the B.C. Electric Co., was engaged in a repair job on Pike's Road in the Millstream area at 1.35 p.m. yesterday when he touched a line carrying 6,900 volts.

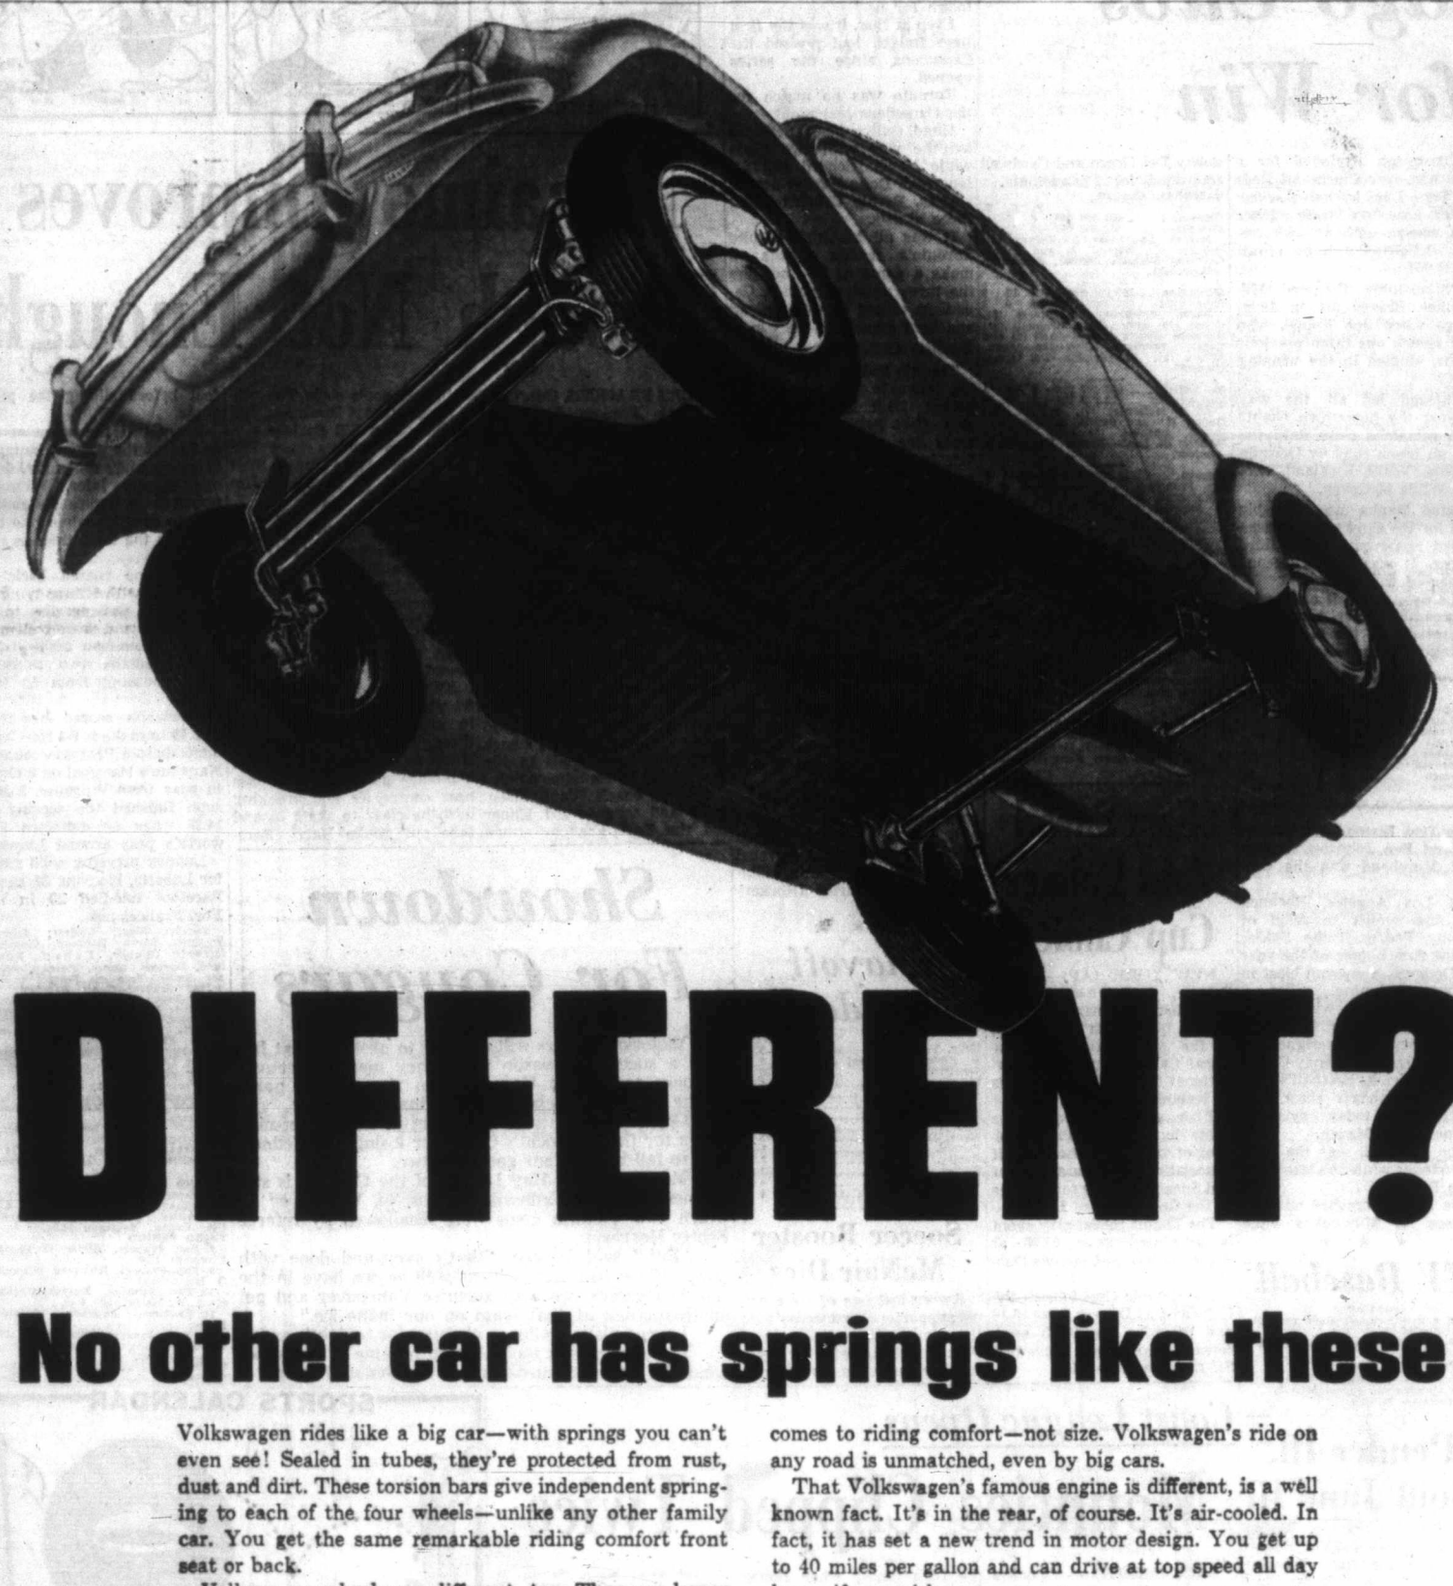
His condition is reported as good.

Henry Spicer, 35, of Shawnigan Lake, is in fair condition after suffering electric burns in the basement of his home Wednesday night.

He had gone to the basement at midnight to check power lines and was found unconscious by his wife.

The high winds gusted in the Victoria area to a high of 73 miles an hour, about 1.30 a.m. yesterday. At Tatoosh Island, near Cape Flattery, a peak of 95 miles an hour was recorded.

Throughout the area, but mainly in outlying districts, power and telephone lines were broken briefly by falling branches and trees.



DIFFERENT?

No other car has springs like these!

Volkswagen rides like a big car—with springs you can't even see! Sealed in tubes, they're protected from rust, dust and dirt. These torsion bars give independent springing to each of the four wheels—unlike any other family car. You get the same remarkable riding comfort front seat or back.

Volkswagen wheels are different, too. They are larger than normal with larger tires for a softer, more comfortable ride. And oversize brakes give you maximum safety.

Volkswagen's unique suspension, large wheels, luxurious contoured seats—these are the important things when it comes to riding comfort—not size. Volkswagen's ride on any road is unmatched, even by big cars.

That Volkswagen's famous engine is different, is a well known fact. It's in the rear, of course. It's air-cooled. In fact, it has set a new trend in motor design. You get up to 40 miles per gallon and can drive at top speed all day long—if you wish.

All this makes Volkswagen different. When you drive it you'll find—it pays to be different.

No wonder, then, that Volkswagen is the largest selling imported car in North America—by far!

Boom-Boom Sets Them Up

Playmaker for Montreal Canadiens last night was Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion who assisted on three goals in a 4-0 win over Toronto Maple Leafs. Geoffrion grabs loose puck beside Toronto goalie Johnny Bower and prepares to fire it to one of his linemates.

Montreal Sweeps Stanley Cup

Even Imlach Impressed At Powerful Canadiens

TORONTO—Even coach Punch Imlach of Toronto Maple Leafs was impressed Thursday night as the powerful Montreal Canadiens captured a record fifth straight Stanley Cup championship.

Montreal whipped Toronto 4-0 before an estimated crowd of 14,000 at Toronto and also matched the 1951-52 record of eight straight playoff wins set by Detroit.

Coach Toe Blake's Canadiens eliminated Chicago Black Hawks in four semi-final games and then turned on Toronto for another series sweep.

Until Thursday, Imlach was his ever-confident self and simply refused to admit the Maple Leafs were fighting a losing battle.

SHAKES HANDS

Following last night's loss, Imlach walked around the Toronto dressing room and shook hands with the players. Then he went to the Montreal room and repeated the performance.

Imlach's only comment was, "Canadiens played real well in that one. They made it real tough for us."

Even at that, it was the first time Imlach had praised the Canadiens since the series opened.

Toronto was no match for the Canadiens last night.

Huge centre Jean Beliveau led the way with two goals while Henri Richard and defenceman Doug Harvey scored singles. Bernie Geoffrion had three assists.

It was all Montreal despite Toronto's frantic efforts to make a game of it. And, like the three previous games, Canadiens skated to a quick lead and then coasted to the win.

THREE CHANCES

Toronto had three good scoring chances in the second period, Dick Duff hitting a post, Carl Brewer hitting the cross bar and Frank Mahovlich being foiled on a breakaway.

Montreal goalie Jacques Plante was brilliant in recording his third shutout of the playoffs by making 30 saves. Plante had blanked Chicago twice in semi-final games.

Montreal appeared content to put a big screen around Plante in the final period in an effort to preserve the shutout for the masked goaltender.

Toronto carried the play for most of the period and, although they came close a few times, they could not organize a serious drive.

At the end of the game, president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League officially handed the coveted Stanley Cup to veteran Montreal player Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

The 38-year-old Richard was the first player to be congratulated by Imlach.

Asked by reporters if he planned on retiring, Richard replied, "We'll wait until summer and see."

The Montreal players had clomped into the dressing room, shouted congratulations to each other and then went about the business of putting on street clothes and heading for their train.

It was a surprisingly quiet demonstration. Veterans and youngsters alike, after the first exuberant outburst, took it all in their stride as if it were a regular-season win.

"Well," drawled Doug Harvey, "When you win 4-0 and win in four games after four cup titles you don't get excited."

MORE EXCITED

Reporters and photographers swarmed about and appeared more excited than the players.

Coach Blake was asked what next, after his fifth straight title?

"I like odd numbers," he answered. "After six comes seven."

The gloom hung like a curtain in the Toronto dressing room. Most of the players sat about in various stages of undress, in no hurry to shower. Defenceman Bob Baun and forward Bob Pulford sat slumped on the bench, still in full uniform and holding sticks as if unable to believe the season was over.

Finally, players began talking and showering. Baun still sat, skates laced and stick held tightly in his hands.

Fighting Chicago Cubs Choke Rally for Win

Chicago Cubs brought the unbeaten ways of San Francisco Giants to a close Thursday but had to use four pitchers to subdue the home run-happy Giants 6-5 in the climax of a full National League schedule.

Result left Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco tied for first place in early-season standings. Each team has won two games and lost one.

Los Angeles grabbed a one-third share of first place, scoring two runs in the bottom of the ninth to edge St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 behind fine relief pitching from Ed Roebuck.

Other games, both afternoon contests, saw Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies win their home openers.

Pittsburgh exploded for a 13-0 win over Cincinnati Reds as Vern Law hurled a seven-hitter. Law, top Pirate pitcher last season with an 18-9 record, delighted a huge crowd of 34,064.

Philadelphia trimmed Milwaukee Braves 5-4 in 10-innings when Joe Koppe, who had struck out three previous times, singled in the winning run.

Chicago led all the way against the hometown Giants who remained close until the end on home runs by Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland, two, and Willie McCovey.

Ernie Banks was the big gun for the Cubs with a bases-loaded home run in the third inning. It was Banks' second homer of the season.

McCovey made it close with a three-run homer, his first of the season, in the eighth but Chicago got fine relief pitching from Don Elston, Art Ceccarelli and Ben Johnson. Starter Seth Morehead was the winner.

At Los Angeles, Roebuck was the winner in relief of Johnny Podres. Duke Snider hit his first homer of the year for Dodgers, a one-run blast in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia's win came only hours after manager Eddie Sawyer had resigned.

Acting manager Andy Cohen may go down as baseball's only unbeaten manager since he'll be relieved today by new skipper Gene Mauch.

Don Cardwell was the Phillies' winner while the loser was Juan Pizarro.

Joe Adcock crashed out two homers for Milwaukee while Bobby Del Greco and Cardwell connected for Philadelphia.

VIEWS of SPORT

By Red Smith

If young Sam Snead had devoted less attention to his golf swing and more to learning to count in that little red schoolhouse in West Virginia; then today's reading public might have been spared an aggravated attack of the tripes, which is a type of queasiness induced by teapot tempests.

There has been, it says here, an absurdly disproportionate commotion over the television match that Snead purposely dumped for the cameras after he had accidentally lost it on the quiet.

There are two major points which have been widely overlooked:

(a) Snead is an honest hillbilly who respects the game that has made him rich. Through foolish carelessness he got himself into a dilemma that confused him, but on the essential issue he was perfectly clear—regardless of the financial stakes, he could not accept victory in a match he had lost under the rules.

(b) The contest wasn't rigged. Sam's small crime against the code was committed inadvertently; it was a purely technical infraction with no bearing on the actual play. As soon as he discovered his error the match was irrevocably lost. How he contrived to make the loss official was a matter of small consequence.

Shown Three Months Later

As the match was played, victory and the rewards—$4,000 and a chance to try for $8,000 more—went to the proper man. Nobody got hurt unless, as The Reliable Jersey House has suggested to Stanley Woodward, there were bettors backing Snead. And the probability is that the House got that notion straight out of his vermouth-cassis.

It must be remembered that the match was filmed in Bermuda in December and not shown on television until three months later. There are always a good many witnesses to these tapings and only a token effort is made to keep the score a secret. Neither The Reliable Jersey House nor any other member of his estimable profession is going to let a client past-post him by three months, and if there's anybody so stupid as to lose on a competition whose result is known, then he doesn't deserve to have money.

Even in a friendly wager between guys watching television in honest ignorance of the result, no harm would be done. The loser lost, no matter how. If the betting was on a hole-by-hole basis, friends would either settle according to the rule book or call all bets off.

It has been amply demonstrated that the television industry is utterly amoral. Lately the hucksters have been making a noisy public show of rectitude but their sanctity rises from an ulcer, not conscience, and it's fear for their grubby little hides that gives the golf shows protection the quiz shows didn't have.

That is, it is their fear and the built-in ethics of the golfers themselves. Because it's as easy to cheat at golf as at solitaire, golfers realize that they can have no game at all without rigid adherence to the code. The code means all the rules, including those which seem petty. No other sport is policed as strictly as golfers police themselves.

He Hadn't Moved the Ball

Thus in the Masters, Arnold Palmer called for a ruling—possibly ruinous to him—when he and he alone saw his ball move while he was taking a practice swing near by. No penalty was charged because Palmer hadn't moved the ball.

Thus, also, Dow Finsterwald brought in a complaint against himself for violating a rule he didn't know applied in the Masters, by taking a practice putt after finishing a hole. He was happy to get off with a two-stroke penalty.

And thus Sam Snead when, after 12 holes of his TV match with Mason Rudolph, he discovered in his bag one more club than the law allows. In ordinary circumstances he would have announced his discovery and forfeited the match right there, but this would have left the sponsors with an unfinished show.

That was his dilemma as he brooded through the next three holes. Coming to the 16th with the match square, his mind was made up. With considerable difficulty he chucked the match, four-putting the 16th green and three-putting the 18th.

This was his second mistake, after failing to count his clubs in the first place. Sam is a golfer, not a TV producer. He should have called the rule as it's written and let the space cadets worry about their end of it, but he's a decent guy who erred out of consideration for others.

Having first made sure that he wouldn't profit unfairly, he told the TV people what had happened. They were the ones who, knowing about the dump, decided to put it on the air. And now that the truth is out, they're the ones who are embarrassed.

Nanaimo Improves Though Not Enough

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Fort Frances Canadians came from behind in the third period to defeat Nanaimo Labatts 7-5 Thursday night and take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Western Canada intermediate hockey final.

The Nanaimo squad showed a marked improvement over its performance in the first game, won by Fort Frances 4-1 Wednesday night. Third game is Saturday night. The whole series is being played in Fort Frances.

Canadians took a 3-2 lead in the first period, but Nanaimo came back with the only two goals of the second frame to lead 4-3. Canadians then struck back with four goals in the last period to Nanaimo's one.

Playing coach Frank Eisenzoph and veteran Ed Kliner led the Fort Frances attack with two goals each. The others went to Art Rousseau, Bill Kawulia and Bill Borlase.

Nanaimo scorers were Bill Sutherland, Arnie Dugan, Stan Berry, Red Wilgress and Jim Peterson.

LOOSE PUCK

Kawulia opened the scoring in the second minute of the game, grabbing a loose puck at the edge of the Nanaimo goal crease and beating goalie Bob Lumley cleanly. Sutherland tied it at 1-1 minutes later, banging in Berry's rebound.

Kliner and Borlase made it 3-1 with goals from scrambles in rapid succession mid-way through the period. Dugan closed first period scoring with a picture goal, taking a pass near centre ice and breaking into the clear to skate in and fake out goalie Harry Barefoot before sliding the puck home.

Berry tied the score at 3-3 at 7.14 of the second, banging in Sutherland's rebound. About one minute later, Wilgress tipped in Peterson's goalmouth pass to send Nanaimo into the lead for the first time in the series.

Canadians roared back in the third, with Kliner tying it on a neat passing play with Eisenzoph and Dan Dilworth at 1.16. Rousseau made it 5-4 for Canadians two minutes later, counting from 10 feet out.

Eisenzoph scored his first at 6.49 to make it 6-4 for Canadians, before Peterson counted Nanaimo's last goal on a close-in pass from Wilgress. Eisenzoph finished the scoring at 14.36 when he deflected Dilworth's pass around Lumley.

Lumley played a solid game for Labatts, blocking 31 shots, Barefoot handled 20 in the Fort Frances nets.

Showdown For Cougars

Victoria Cougars will attempt to prolong what has been a successful season when they meet Vancouver Canucks tonight at Vancouver in the seventh game of the Western Hockey League final.

Cougars need a win to remain in the best-of-nine series for the President's Cup after losing 2-1 Wednesday to fall behind four games to two.

Manager-coach Hay Laycoe of the Cougars is still simmering over Wednesday's loss to Vancouver in which two Victoria goals were disallowed by referee Scotty Morrison.

"But," said Laycoe, "that's over and done with now. If we can just play as well as we have in the last two games, we may surprise Vancouver and get another crack at that team on our home ice."

Laycoe plans no lineup changes for tonight's game.

If Victoria wins tonight, eighth game of the series would be played Saturday night at Memorial Arena.

Pender Ill, Bout June 10

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston boxing promoter Sam Silverman says the fight between Paul Pender and Sugar Ray Robinson has been postponed until June 10 because Pender has bursitis in the spur of his right heel.

Silverman says the bout—for the Massachusetts and New York version of the middleweight championship—was originally slated for the Boston Garden on April 29, but instead will be rescheduled. It will still be held in the Garden.

Mounties Clipped Twice

SACRAMENTO — Opening of the Pacific Coast Baseball League season produced little in the way of encouragement for Vancouver Mounties, who dropped both ends of a double-header, 10-9 and 5-1, to Sacramento Solons.

Mounties held leads of two runs on three occasions in the afternoon game before losing in 10 innings. Veteran Elmer Singleton struck out 10 and limited Mounties to seven hits in leading Sacramento to the evening win.

Vancouver used six pitchers in the opening game while Sacramento used five.

Outfielder Howie Goss of Vancouver was the top batter in the first game. Goss hit two home runs, one a tremendous 440-foot smash over the centre-field fence in the third inning.

Veteran lefthander Joe Hatten was the loser for Vancouver in the evening game and gave way to Al Corwin in the eighth inning.

Only Vancouver run came in the fifth inning when Bobby Balcena homered.

Leonard Shoots 75 In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Thorne Wood shot a five-under-par 66 Thursday for the lead in the first round of the $17,500 Greensboro Open golf tournament.

Par is 35-36 for the 6,651-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course.

Alone in fourth place with a 68 was Sam Snead, seeking his seventh Greensboro victory since 1938 when he won the inaugural.

Bob Goalby was fifth with a 69.

In all, 10 men broke par and 10 others equalled it in a field of 128.

Al Balding of Toronto, playing out of Crystal River, Fla., fired 38-33—71 for an 11th place tie with nine others.

Black Clouds Gathering

LONDON (Special) — England's national cricket team, which has just returned from a stormy tour of the West Indies, may become involved in an even greater controversy when it hosts the South African cricketers in a test series this summer.

The M.C.C. surprised even its strongest supporters by scoring its first-ever Test victory in the West Indies, a decisive win even if the margin was only by one clear-cut decision against four draws.

This was the tonic needed to raise the sagging spirits after the dismal tour of Australia and the unimpressive sweep of last summer's Test series against weak Indian opposition. It came at an opportune time when England faces the stronger challenge of South Africa followed by the return visit of Australia.

DARK CLOUDS

But dark clouds of anxiety are drifting on the horizon and growing blacker as the arrival of the South Africans on Easter Sunday becomes imminent. This is one Test match in which political and moral viewpoints could defeat both teams.

There is no need to repeat the events of the past few weeks because the sudden explosion in South Africa has been heard and felt around the world. But there is a big danger that one word—apartheid—will wreck any chances of success and drive a wedge between the South African team and the cricket public.

Certainly the M.C.C. in a series of statements has let it be known how club officials and England's cricketers feel about race relationships on the playing field. Politics and sport don't mix, they say, and there are few sportsmen anywhere who are willing to dispute this.

FEEL DIFFERENTLY

Unfortunately, however, there are many people in Britain who feel differently towards the South African cricketers and who are not willing to discard their passionate beliefs for even a few hours of entertainment.

The Englishman, like millions of people throughout the world, is rightly sensitive about racial discrimination and has condemned the recent tragic events in South Africa. But the extremists threaten a demonstration campaign against the tourists that could lead to a "boycott" test series.

The M.C.C. has already sent a letter of warning to the South African Cricket Association to put them "in the picture." And club officials have strongly criticized boycott appeals from such national figures as Hugh Gaitskell, leader of the Labor party, and the Reverend David Sheppard, former England chicketer.

Sheppard's refusal to captain the Duke of Norfolk's team or play for Sussex County against the visitors has been strongly condemned by his cricket colleagues and other leading sportsmen.

The fact remains, however, that the South Africans can expect demonstrations, both small and large, outside and perhaps inside almost every ground on which they play. There will be banners denouncing apartheid and perhaps clashes between opponents of racial discrimination and the small groups of right-wing extremists who want to "keep Britain white."

NO WONDER

This is the background, then, for a summer of first-class cricket between two of the world's outstanding teams. It is no wonder that many people view the series apprehensively and hope that international relations in cricket will not be damaged by a series of ugly incidents that neither the MCC, the majority of the cricket public nor sportsmen anywhere want to happen.

If the South African situation has accomplished anything worthwhile among sportsmen outside the Union it has aroused all British sports organizations into action. British lawn tennis, professional golf and athletic organizations have all issued statements saying that there is no discrimination of race or religion existing within their sporting field.

Sport is, with one or two notable exceptions, the only field on which peoples of any color of skin can compete on equal terms. It is to be hoped that one segregation will always remain—between politics and sport.

The England cricketers won many friends in the West Indies and regained many friends at home through first-rate cricket performances and off-the-field behaviour worthy of any ambassador-at-large.

But the West Indies tour was not without incident. Few will forget the riot invoked by an umpire's decision and the controversy which sprang up over the throwing of "bumpers" by bowlers on both sides.

Peter May, who started the tour as the M.C.C. captain but was forced to return home for an operation, said after the opening test that it was the umpires who must decide how many bumpers were legal. Colin Cowdrey, who took command in May's absence, said it was up to the captains to put the brake on bumpers.

Some argued it was the only real weapon a bowler possessed on the lightning-fast West Indian wickets. But there was always the threat of serious injury riding on the bumper and the matter will be discussed seriously at a later date when the M.C.C. report has been read and digested.

DIFFERENT TEAM

England was a much different team to the one that toured Australia and toiled laboriously under last summer's hot sun against the Indians. There was a new spirit and keenness, a big improvement in fielding and some encouraging performances by several players expected to figure prominently in future plans.

The M.C.C., so often criticized the past two seasons for a slow scoring and bowling rate, were much ahead of the West Indians on this occasion. It was the home side and not the tourists who were cautious and adopted time - wasting methods throughout the exciting, unpredictable series.

Cowdrey and Pullar were tough to separate as the England openers and Dexter was a big surprise with an outstanding display on attack, at the wicket and in the field. Dexter led the regular M.C.C. batsmen with 526 runs, including an unbeaten 136, in nine test innings for an average of 65.75 runs an inning.

Sawyer Quits Phillies; Moss Banned in France

Eddie Sawyer, unruffled and unsmiling, resigned Thursday as manager of the National League's Philadelphia Phillies with the simple explanation that he did not want the job.

A "shocked" Bob Carpenter, owner-president, and a "sorry" John Quinn, general-manager, promptly announced that Gene Mauch, now managing Minneapolis in the American Association, would replace Sawyer.

Never before in major league baseball history has a manager either quit or been fired so early in the season. Philadelphia played once, and lost, at Cincinnati.

Sawyer said only, "The idea has been with me the past few weeks."

British driving ace Stirling Moss will not be allowed to take part in European competitions as long as the British withhold his driving licence.

Announcement came from Jean Chauvet, secretary of the French Automobile Sports Association, in Paris after Moss' licence was suspended Wednesday in London as the aftermath of an accident.

Moss was to compete in several top French races such as the Monte Carlo Grand Prix and the Le Mans 24-hour marathon.

Why Was Harry Dropped? All Irishmen Are Asking

DUBLIN (UPI)—The round, weather-beaten face broke into a broad grin when I popped the question "why was Harry dropped?" His cheerful answer "sure, I'm just an old man. Me legs aren't the same as they used to be."

But underneath the laughter it was a sad man talking.

For Harry Bradshaw, the darlin' boy of Irish sports, had just heard he had been dropped from the host team to play in the 1960 Canada Golf Cup—and on his own course, too.

A smaller man than happy Harry wouldn't have taken it so philosophically. With partner Christy O'Connor he won the 1958 tournament in Mexico—and there he was, all set for one last fling on his own beloved Portmarnock links, a few miles north of here.

It was to have been Harry's swansong in big-time international golf. Crowds of 20,000 a day would have gone to watch.

Then wham. The shock.

The selectors dropped him in favor of up-and-coming Norman Drew. Norman is a Ryder Cup player of pretty high class—and Christy is Ireland's number one. But Norman has a lot of time ahead of him—and Harry it should have been, the locals opined.

"Ah, it's just one of those things. Sure I'll be here to keep an eye on things anyway," the Portmarnock professional shrugged.

But Harry's pals didn't take the affront lying down. Paddy Sheehan, a well-known Dublin lawyer, said in a letter two-columned in the "Evening Press," that "he (Bradshaw) has received the most shameful treatment when the twilight of a very great career is almost in the horizon."

NONE OF IT

There were even rumors that Drew intended pulling out of the team. But Bradshaw would have none of it.

"Now he'd be a very silly boy to do that. It's a great chance he's getting. And he and Christy, in their own country, before their own people, must have a great chance of winning. They'll make a fine pair," he said.

With that he picked up his clubs, walked straight to the first tee—and started a round which finished with an 18th hole birdie for a 69. This on one of the toughest—and longest—courses in the British Isles and with the wind howling in from the Irish Sea.

NOT BAD

"I guess it's not bad for an auld fella," he laughed.

Not bad at all. Because there will be more 79s than 69s when the 30 or so teams from all over the world start battling for the cup June 23-26.

The Irish think it will be the best tournament since the annual tournament started in 1953. Tony Cerda and Roberto de Vicenzo were the winners then. Since then Australia, the present holders, have won it twice, the U.S. twice, with Ireland and Japan the other winners.

Three Soccer Games Slated for Sunday

Three games are scheduled Sunday in the Victoria and District Soccer League.

Two of the games are to be played at Heywood Avenue Park. Evcoes meet Brodies at 1 p.m. and Esquimalt plays Heaneys at 2.45.

Other game is at Central Park where Saanich Thistles play Canadian Scottish. Game time is 2 p.m.

Rifle Shoot On Today

Today will see the opening of .303 shooting here.

Matches commencing at 1 p.m. usually attract a large crowd for the traditional opening at Heals Range, with teams representing the army regular and militia units as well as RCN and RCMP.

Schedule calls for double relay of 10 rounds each at the 200-yard mound.

Sea Cadets Strive For Fourth Position

Sea Cadets forced a playoff for fourth place in the junior division of the Victoria Rugby Union by downing Oak Bay Wanderers 13-6 Wednesday at Windsor Park.

Dennis Guelpa led Sea Cadets with two tries while Keith Robertson kicked two converts.

Sea Cadets now play Canadian Scottish at 2 p.m. Saturday at Macdonald Park to decide fourth place.

PPCLI Cadets play Air Cadets at 2 p.m. Saturday at Windsor Park in a league match.

Week Later For Colwood

First round of the Royal Colwood Golf Club handicap tournament will be played April 24, not April 17 as was previously announced.

Tournament officials decided on the switch following qualifying-round play. Don Ross and Gary Smith, a junior player, shared medalist honors.

Olympic Quiz

They Want to Know It All

ROME (UPI)—Men and women competing in this summer's Olympic games here will be quizzed about their sex life, their drinking habits, and whether they were breast-fed babies.

This came to light today in an official Olympic bulletin, which disclosed that a special medical scientific committee wants to find out what goes into the make-up of the 9,000 athletes from about 90 countries who will compete here.

The bulletin itself said that some of the questions of the committee are "unusual."

The form for women athletes is printed on powder blue paper with the coat of arms of the she-wolf of Rome and headed "Medical Scientific Form for the Olympic Athlete."

In addition to usual details of name, birthplace and nationality, its asks whether the athlete is of the White, Negroid, Mongolian, Indo-American, Indios, "half-breed" or of "other" races.

Other questions include (check one) whether the athlete was raised by maternal breast feeding, nurse feeding, or bottle feeding.

Under "success of marriage," the applicant is asked to check the box next to "good," "mediocre" or "bad."

In addition to questions concerning health and bodily developments, the form asks such questions as:

"Do you read?" If so, "every day?" "sometimes," "rarely," or "never."

"How do you like to spend your free time," asks question number 68.

Sixty-nine asks "how many hours a day do you sleep?"

Food preferences are followed by question 73, the last: "Sexual behavior."

This has a sub-heading — "temperament" — followed by three crosses, and a box to check, two crosses and a box to check, one cross and the final box with a minus sign.

Garden Notes

Ease into Easter

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

The Easter weekend is unquestionably the busiest period in the gardener's year and most of us will be making the big effort between now and Monday. If the weatherman is kind and lays on a supply of climate suitable for the proper display of Easter bonnets, with plenty of sunshine and just enough gentle breeze to dry off the soil, a lot of real pleasure and accomplishment can be derived from the long weekend in the garden.

Let's not go tearing into the work like crazy, though. Muscles which may have gone rusty through months of inaction are liable to scream to high heaven if overworked suddenly, and who wants to spend Easter Sunday stretched out on a hard mattress, stiff and sore? Remember the old ticker, too, and work into the more strenuous jobs in a gradual way.

Seems to me that until we get ourselves hardened up to garden work again, the smart thing to do is to change jobs fairly frequently at first. This chopping and changing isn't an efficient way to work, but at least it will spread the strain over all the muscles and not just on one set of them.

For instance, you might get in a spell of sweeping the lawn with the broom rake first. Then, while the grass dries off, tackle a bit of digging in the vegetable plot, but straighten up and ease the strain on your back at the end of every row. When this begins to tire you, leave it for the sun and air to work their magic on your freshly-dug soil and switch to some seed-sowing or shrub-pruning.

Don't be ashamed to take time out frequently for a rest and a smoke—it is much more important to conserve your enthusiasm and health than to break any digging records. If the wind is chilly, though, you had better slip indoors for your breather rather than hang around all hot and sweaty. You won't get much gardening done if you come down with a painful dose of lumbago or sciatica.

Your Zvolanek sweet peas should be nicely up by now and, when they get to be around three inches tall, it is a good idea to nip out the growing point from each plant. This will cause a couple of strong shoots to emerge from near the base of the plant—much stronger than the original or "maiden" shoot, which seldom amounts to much.

If you want top-quality, prize-winning flowers, leave only one of these basal shoots to train up, nipping off the weaker of the two. If a greater quantity of reasonably good flowers will satisfy you, you can train up both the basal shoots, producing in effect two vines from the one root.

One very important job, often neglected, is to provide a row of short twiggy sticks to support the sweet peas until they are tall enough to reach the lower edge of the net or whatever type of support is provided. If sweet peas—or garden peas, for that matter—are allowed to topple over in the wind while young, they will turn upward again but, in so doing, they develop a kink in their stems which hampers the flow of sap, just as a kink in the hose checks the flow of water.

★ ★ ★

If you planted any shrubs or trees this spring, it would be a good idea to devote at least a small proportion of the Easter weekend to looking them over carefully. With any newly-planted subject, it is always a race to get new root hairs established in the soil and pumping moisture up to the leaves before the foliage can die.

You can stack the odds heavily in favor of survival by keeping the foliage freshened up with a daily spray of clear water until the plants are able to fend for themselves.

Menace Underrated — 50 Victims in Year

Down with Man-Eating Shark!

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The shark has been indicted as a "terribly dangerous" beast whose reputation ought to be even worse than it is.

The charge was lodged by Dr. Leonard P. Schultz, curator of fishes at the Smithsonian Institution. He said sharks bit more than 50 people last year. Roughly one-third of the victims died.

"There is no question of the seriousness of the situation," Schultz said. He noted that in recent years some almost nice things have been said about sharks. He recalled reading an article which said the shark was greatly overrated as a menace to sea bathers.

If anything, Schultz said, it's underrated.

★ ★ ★

A world census of shark attacks on human beings is being conducted through the Smithsonian by the shark research panel of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

The purpose of the study, partly financed by the office of naval research, is to devise more effective protection against sharks for bathers and for victims of disasters at sea.

Whenever attacks are reported anywhere in the world, the panel sends out two-page questionnaires asking for information including "what the victim was doing at the time." The questionnaires go to the victims, if any survived, and to hospitals, doctors, scientists and coroners.

★ ★ ★

Schultz said sharks apparently are able to sense at a distance motions in water such as those made by bathers. The study may show what sort of motions provoke an attack.

One provocation is known—just a trace of blood in the water, Schultz said, incites a shark to uncontrollable ferocity. It will make them "attack anything in the way," even boats.

The panel plans to publish early each year a list of shark attacks in the previous year. The 1959 list will be published in about a month, Schultz said.

★ ★ ★

He said the panel's information proves that "sharks are terribly dangerous in most warm and temperate ocean waters." The most dangerous regions are Australia, the southeast coast of Africa, the tropical Atlantic, the Pacific coast of North America, and Hawaii.

Sharks cover a lot of territory. Some of the most dangerous, for example, range in the summer from the Caribbean to the coasts of New England. They have been known to attack swimmers in as little as two feet of water.

Hollywood Today — By Sheilah Graham

Marilyn Allergic to Films?

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Marilyn Monroe has recovered from the illness to which she succumbed when she heard that the screen actors' strike was over. She had been ill before her picture, "Some Like It Hot," closed down, and was quite well during its suspension. I believe a psychiatrist would deduce that Marilyn has a deep aversion to movie-making.

★ ★ ★

However, I believe Miss Monroe will do her best to romp through the five weeks still remaining to finish the picture, to enable her to start "The Misfits" on time for director John Huston and husband Arthur Miller, who wrote this original story for his wife. And it will be interesting to watch the state of Marilyn's health while she is working in "The Misfits." Maybe having her husband with her on the set will effect a cure.

★ ★ ★

Simone Signoret will spend three weeks with her 14-year-old daughter in Paris before going to Rome to star in "Addua and Her Friends." Husband Yves Montand's date in Japan may have to be postponed for the second time.

★ ★ ★

Laurence Harvey's British picture, "The Long, and the Short, and the Tall," has been postponed for the third time, to enable him to complete "Butterfield 8" with Elizabeth Taylor. "Butterfield," suspended during the strike, is expected to restart at the end of this week or sometime next. "But how," Harvey wants to know, "does one go back to a picture after five or six weeks away?"

★ ★ ★

Cornel Wilde is in a hairy quandary. He had grown a beard for "Caves of the Night," shaved it with the strike—and now must grow another one fast. He won't be ready for at least a week. Moral: Never shave when the actors go on strike. You can be sure the producers will settle.

★ ★ ★

"Dog of Flanders" producer Robert Radnitz has a good theory—that a modestly budgeted picture can be successful if directed to a particular segment of the moviegoing public, such as teen and pre-teenagers. Actually, no picture has to be expensive to be a hit. It just has to be good.

Spotted Joan Bennett's daughter, Melinda, at the airport, waiting to jet to New York. Because of bad weather, she was told the plane might have to be rerouted. "Then I won't go," said the beauty.

★ ★ ★

Yul Brynner will show his new bride the United States. They motor across America before returning to his tax-lovely house in Switzerland.

★ ★ ★

Bob Horton fell in love with London during his trip there around Christmas. And when he finishes this season's "Wagon Train," Bob goes back to England for another TV special.

★ ★ ★

Earl Holliman is awaiting the word from his sponsors about renewal of his "Hotel de Paree" series. If the word is no, he will probably co-star with Julie Harris on Broadway in "Little Moon of Alban."

★ ★ ★

They are getting the ship ready for Jack Lemmon in Hawaii for the resumption of "The Wackiest Ship in the Army." Jack had a fine time during the strike, sunning in his back yard in Hollywood and dating his best girl, Felicia Farr.

★ ★ ★

The three stars of "Go Naked in the World" had to return from three different countries—Gina Lollobrigida from Rome, Anthony Franciosa from New York City (you could call this a different country), and Ernie Borgnine from Mexico where he has been vacationing with wife Katy Jurado.

★ ★ ★

Bing Crosby had been taking it easy but is now back to "High Time," with Nicole Maury. But director Delmar Daves must wait until the middle of next week before he can put "Parrish" before the cameras, with Claudette Colbert and Troy Donahue. The wait for all-new pictures was part of the agreement between the actors and the producers.

At about the same time, Dore Schary will be able to start the movie version of his "Sunrise at Campobello," with Greer Garson and Ralph Bellamy, at Warners.

Fess Parker's 'Aftermath' — May Bloom Into a Series

Sneak Preview in the Living Room

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Want to sneak a peek at a new television series before it's even announced?

If so, tune in Sunday night and catch Fess Parker playing a civil war yeteran trying to rebuild the south.

Parker, the hero of Disney's "Davy Crockett" splurge five years ago could rocket back to national adulation in the new show, titled "Aftermath."

★ ★ ★

The program will debut as a segment of CBS-TV's G.E. Theatre, in what is becoming standard procedure for anthology series.

Many such programs accept a story and star combination which later makes the grade as a separate series. This is what Parker and company hope will happen with "Aftermath."

A native of Texas, the tall, angular Fess is anxious to play a Southern hero in another series.

★ ★ ★

"I believe I'd just as soon play this kind of role as any," he said in a soft drawl. "If I were completely candid I'd say I've been playing the same role for eight and a half years. I sorta slip from one character into another without changing myself much."

Since zooming to fame as Crockett, Parker has made six pictures for Disney, two for Paramount and a handful of TV shows.

This comparative inactivity left the big guy somewhat restive.

"I'm not a bit worried about the hard work involved in a series," he said. "I've had four years of doing too little work. I'd be mighty happy to end that sort of life.

★ ★ ★

"Time is the only thing you can't replace. When you have a lot of time on your hands you learn to spend it recklessly, as if it was a large sum of money that came too easily.

"This gives you time to compound the normal mistakes of human nature. Believe me, I know."

Actually, Parker's entire career was built on the three-hour long "Davy Crockett" TV shows. To a lesser actor, being so closely identified with a single character might have spelled disaster.

★ ★ ★

"It hasn't worked as a detriment to me," he said. "Matter of fact it was pure luck.

"It's not generally known, but Jim Arness, who plays the marshal on Gunsmoke, was being considered for the Crockett role, and at the same time I was being sought for the Gunsmoke part.

"Funny, the way things turned out. I guess neither Jim or I have anything to complain about."

Villagers Don't Like It

Quack Here and Quack There And Duck Smell Everywhere

ETCHINGHAM, England (UPI) — Villagers complained yesterday that it's quack quack here, quack there and quack quack everywhere because of Lady Killearn's duck farm.

The 500 villagers have vainly sent petitions to the parish council, the district council and the county council to have Lady Killearn's duck farm banned.

"The smell is everywhere. But that's not the worst. It's that blasted quacking. I hear it everywhere," villager Wilfred Barnes said.

Rev. Harold Lethbridge agreed. He helped write the petitions that referred to Lady Killearn's duck farm as "a slum . . . a smelly nuisance . . . an eyesore . . . a blot on the landscape."

But Lady Killearn, whose 8,000 ducks reside in the backyard of her ancestral mansion, scoffed.

"Of course there is a smell and there is bound to be noise," she said. "But if people choose to live in the country they will have to put up with it.

"I think the villagers are very rude. They are impertinent and very tiresome people. I shall ignore them completely."

Sub-Fired

NATO May Get Polaris Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is thinking of arming the North Atlantic Alliance with its promising submarine-launched Polaris missile.

A state department spokesman said Thursday discussions of this possibility began at the Atlantic Pact defence meeting in Paris two weeks ago. He stressed the talks are in a very early stage.

Word came a day after Britain junked a major part of her military rocket program and decided to rely on the U.S. for missiles which would be fired from mobile rather than more vulnerable fixed bases.

The new development fills out a little more the picture of the U.S. as the missile arsenal of the anti-Comunist alliance.

State department press officer Lincoln White said Britain, which already has been furnished 60 U.S. land-based intermediate range ballistic missiles, has indicated she would like to get Polaris missiles on her own.

But White said British needs "would necessarily have to be considered in the light of" overall NATO needs.

If it was decided to go ahead, the Polaris rockets would be assigned to the high command of the alliance. This command would deploy them, where it thought they would be most effective.

The nuclear warheads would be kept under U.S. control, but White said he understands Britain, an atomic power in its own rights, wants to build its own warheads.

The sketchy announcement left open the question of who would build the specially-designed submarines to fire any Polaris missiles handed over to NATO.

Most of the alliance nations are martime powers, but nuclear-powered Polaris subs cost more than $100,000,000 each and there is doubt many could afford a sizable fleet of them.

U.S. Fires Polaris From Tube

SAN CLEMENTE ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. Navy Thursday fired a Polaris missile from an underwater launching tube. Officers said the test brought the submarine missile closer to combat readiness.

It was the first time a Polaris had been fired successfully from under water. An attempt to do this last March 27 failed.

Queen's Scouts and Girl Guides will converge on Victoria from all over British Columbia next week to receive certificates and Gold Cords from Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross.

Presentations will be made in a ceremony Thursday at 2 p.m. at Government House, where the young people will have been luncheon guests of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Ross. That evening they will be guests of the B.C. Provincial Council at dinner in the Empress Hotel.

Mainland Scouts and Guides will travel to and from Vancouver Island in ships of the Royal Canadian Navy.

No Sale To Reds

OTTAWA (CP)—W. M. Gilchrist, president of Eldorado Mining & Refining Limited, said Thursday night he had no knowledge of any Canadian intention to sell uranium to Russia.

He was commenting on a report that Trade Minister Churchill, in Moscow to sign a Soviet-Canadian trade agreement, said Canada would be willing to sell the Soviet uranium from Blind River, Ont.

Fishing Areas

Flat Time Limit Hit by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fishing arrangements between Canada and the United States should not have a flat time limit put on them by international agreement, Democratic Senator Warren Magnuson of Washington said Thursday.

"Any agreement should make clear that these two countries can sit down and work out their problems together," Magnuson said after a luncheon meeting with External Affairs Minister Green and Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney.

The senator said he discussed the territorial waters—fishing rights stand-off at the 87-nation law of the seas conference in Geneva with the Canadian representatives.

"The Canadians are concerned the Geneva conference may break up with no agreement at all," Magnuson said, adding he is to discuss the matter further with Heeney next Tuesday.

A joint U.S.-Canadian proposal before the conference would provide a six-mile offshore territorial limit plus a six-mile exclusive fishing preserve after 10 years. The present limit is generally three miles.

"It's not good for U.S.-Canadian relations to say that at the end of 10 years somebody will ring the bell on you and put you out," Magnuson said.

British Columbia has several species of surf-fish, a distant relative of the inland perch.

UN Refuses Atom Parley

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) —The United Nations announced last night that its members have refused to approve the calling of a special general assembly to discuss the French atomic tests.

A total of 36 countries voted to call the assembly. A simple majority of the 82 members—or 42 votes — is required to summon the UN into session.

Island School Districts Learn Size of '60 Grants

Six Lower Vancouver Island school districts will share more than half a million dollars in provincial education grant increases announced here yesterday.

The increases were embodied in a sum of $51,000,000 to be distributed among B.C.'s 82 school districts and unattached areas — $5,000,000 more than last year's education grants.

Greater Victoria got the lion's share of Island grants with $3,067,722 for operating costs, compared with $2,639,721 last year.

Sooke received $446,000, an increase of $64,000, and Saanich got $443,709, up $31,000.

Cowichan got the smallest increase of the six, up $12,000 from last year's $397,827. Lake Cowichan gained $17,000 on a grant of $185,000 for 1959.

Gulf Islands School District drew $94,659, an increase of only $800 over last year.

Grants to other Island school districts were: Ladysmith, $400,613; Nanaimo, $908,659; Qualicum, $252,184; Alberni, $344,383; Courtenay, $793,467; Campbell River, $242,303; Alert Bay, $130,308.

Manitoba

Girls Raid Men

WINNIPEG (UPI)—Officials of Manitoba University began a collection on the campus yesterday to raise money for repairs to the men's residence.

About 80 girls broke into the residence last weekend where they turned on fire hoses on the sleeping students and flooded the building.

University officials say it appears that the girls had tried to induce the boys to raid their residence and when they were unsuccessful they decided to raid the boys' dorm.

One official attributed the incident to "exam tension."

Cellmates Cut Off From World

TORONTO (UPI)—Norman Phillips, foreign editor of the Toronto Star, said yesterday his cellmates in a Durban prison were a brilliant medical researcher and a clerical worker already found innocent at the South African government's "incredible" treason trial.

In a report from London, Phillips said that he was taken to a cell after his arrest where he found Dr. Michael Hathorn, 38, and clerical worker Errol Shanley. They had been in the cell for 10 days when he arrived.

DENIED PAPERS

He said the two political detainees had been denied newspapers and writing materials.

"They had been and still are denied access to legal counsel. They had been prohibited (this is to be remedied) from having communication to or from their families.

NAMELESS

"Inside South Africa they (political detainees) are nameless. It is against police state law for their wives to whisper to anyone the fact that their husbands are prisoners.

"Shanley was the family breadwinner. Now his wife has to work part-time. Does she? Is she well enough? Shanley is not permitted to know," Phillips said.

Deaf from Wound

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd will likely be slightly deaf in his right ear when he recovers from the bullet wounds inflicted last Saturday, latest reports say.

TORONTO (UPI)—Toronto Star foreign editor Norman Phillips said yesterday confinement in an ill-ventilated jail cell, locked in for 22 out of 24 hours and sleeping on a concrete floor was the price he paid for reporting the truth "about the tragic land of South Africa."

In a report from London, Phillips described in the Star his detention in a Durban jail and gave what he believed might be the reasons for it:

"It was because of the investigation I had commenced into a sinister society called the Broederbond that represents the elite essence of racialism; it was a vindictive action revealing the jittery state of the white supremacy government; it was a warning to all foreign correspondents and a threat to their sources of information."

The Star yesterday also printed the story that was confiscated by police and that led to Phillips' arrest last weekend. Police kept the first page of his duplicate copy but Phillips reconstructed it from memory.

In his report from London, he described the Broederbond as a sort of South African Ku Klux Klan.

"When I was questioned by Captain van der Westhuizen of the police special branch, he was particularly anxious to know my sources of information about the Broederbond," Phillips said.

His last prison meal, he said, was a hunk of dry bread, a brown swill called soup and a beverage "impossible to describe."

"Nationalist fanatics have even tried to blame me and my colleagues for the regrettable assassination attempt on Prime Minister Verwoerd. They say that the would-be assassin was inspired by reading 'false' reports about the South Africa situation in newspapers printed outside the country where Nationalist government censorship cannot reach."

In his confiscated Durban report, Phillips described the Star Capetown correspondent's report of a four-day police reign of terror over the African suburb.

'Blood Bath' Coming

OTTAWA (UPI)—Dr. James Robinson, a prominent American Negro churchman, said yesterday that continuation of South African apartheid "can only purchase a blood bath."

Dr. Robinson of New York City's Church of the Master told an audience at Carleton University that events in South Africa are "moving in the vortex of a whirlwind."

Dr. Robinson, who was refused entry into South Africa, said "history will not rewrite itself for the sake of South Africa." The government's actions are those "of desperation."

Freedom Day Rally

U.S. Asked to Aid Fight for Africa

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two leading African nationalists called on the United States last night to use the weapons of pressure and boycott for the independence of blacks in Africa.

Both said a revolution was brewing in South Africa. They were featured speakers at an Africa Freedom Day rally that kicked off a campaign to raise $200,000 to combat South African apartheid policies.

The nationalists, Dr. Hastings K. Banda and Kenneth Kaunda, said the United States would betray its own ideals if it did not support African nationalism against white supremacy.

Banda, president of the Nyasaland National Congress, was released from jail April 1 after a year's imprisonment by British authorities.

"I was educated in the United States and have lived and worked in Britain," he said. "I shall turn to America and Britain for aid. But if I don't get the money and the technical assistance from you I shall go elsewhere."

"Some years ago the U.S. backed a wrong horse—Gen. Chiang Kai-shek—in China. Beware you do not back the wrong horse in Africa," Banda said.

Kaunda, president of the United National Independence Party of Northern Rhodesia, said American business interests in South Africa were in a position to bring pressure on the South African government.

Kaunda promised a free Africa would safeguard the rights of both races.

"We have no intention of removing one form of aggression only to replace it with another," he said.

The Africans predicted a national strike in South Africa. If this failed to bring about the "collapse" of the South African government, Banda said, "there comes a time when people become so desperate they will face anything."

About 1,000 persons attended the rally sponsored by the American Committee on Africa. A list of members of the committee included Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Senators Wayne Morse (D, Ore.), Hubert Humphrey (D, Minn.), Dennis Chavez (D, N.W.), and Eugene McCarthy (D, Minn.) and former baseball star Jackie Robinson.

Stay Home Again Africans Ordered

the law requires that all Negroes carry.

"2. Free our leaders.

"3. End the state of emergency.

"4. Lift the ban on our organization."

DEVELOPMENTS

This defiance of the government of the wounded Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, came amid these other developments:

President Mangaliso Sobukwe of the militant Pan-Africanist Congress, which also is outlawed, told a Johannesburg court his organization aims at government of Negroes by the Negroes for the Negroes and "the complete overthrow of white dominion."

Sobukwe and 22 aides are on trial on a charge of inciting Negroes to disobey the pass law.

Jacob Nyaose, president of the Confederation of Free South African Trade Unions and one of those charged with Sobukwe, told the court that Negro workers formed 80 per cent of the country's labor force but since 1953 Negro trade unions have been illegal.

NO MOVE

He said there has been no move by employers or the government to improve conditions for Negro workers to meet rising costs.

The government's information office in Capetown announced that 86 Negroes—83 civilians and three policemen—were killed in the racial strife between March 21 and April 9. That covers the period between the controversial Sharpeville shooting and the unsuccessful attempt of a white farmer last Saturday to kill Prime Minister Verwoerd. The office said 391 Negroes and 62 white persons were wounded.

Verwoerd, with two .22-calibre bullets still in his head, was reported progressing well at a Pretoria hospital. A medical bulletin said: "The condition of the injured area is satisfactory. Breathing and swallowing movements are getting easier, with the result that his feeding can be extended."

EMIGRATION QUERIES

Canadian and Australian officials said there has been a marked increase in enquiries about emigration to their countries from South Africa since the disturbances began.

In Durban Thursday, police raided the offices of the Golden City Post newspaper and the Negro magazine Drum. They confiscated several photographs. Head offices of both publications in Johannesburg were raided Wednesday.

Flying Easter Bunny Grounded by City Council

The Easter Bunny won't arrive by helicopter after all at the Easter egg hunt organized by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Beacon Hill Park at 1 p.m. Sunday for Greater Victoria children: city council yesterday said no.

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean led the opposition to the use of the helicopter, calling it "one of these hare-brained schemes," and Mayor Percy Scurrah was concerned about safety of the children. Granting permission to deliver the bunny by helicopter was rejected by a tie vote.

But the bunny will arrive all right, Jaycee president Peter Forward said later—"by some land conveyance. The biggest Easter Bunny ever to set foot in Victoria."

Meanwhile, Jaycees last night helped the Easter bunny cook and dye some 3,600 six-minute eggs for the big Easter egg hunt.

The eggs, together with another 240 chocolate eggs, will be hidden in three areas in the park early Sunday morning. They will be guarded by Jaycees until the hunt officially opens at 1 p.m.

The Easter bunny will pay visits to the children's wards at Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's hospitals in the morning, passing out candy and gifts.

Pat Blewett, chairman of the organizing committee, said only about 1,500 children were originally expected to take part in the hunt, but some 4,000 are now expected.

To avoid confusion, children up to three years old should gather at the Robert Burns monument; children 4 to 6 at the cricket pitch, and children 7 to 12 on the field beside the animal pens.

The Easter bunny is due to arrive about 3 p.m. with candy and balloons to hand out to the children taking part in the hunt.

Adverse Criticism

Sunday 'Cavorting' Debated in Council

Elk Lake Power Regatta All Right After 1 p.m.

By R. O. MARRION

A Sunday speedboat regatta on Elk Lake at the Victoria Day weekend will be all right as long as it doesn't start until 1 p.m. or later, city council decided yesterday.

And in the bargain, some views were exchanged on Sunday conduct.

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean objected to the regatta taking place earlier on a Sunday, and added that he had heard adverse criticism of a certain Sunday parade (obviously the send-off parade for the Chamber of Commerce goodwill tour) in which "some aldermen were reported to have cavorted about in undignified fashion."

That remark brought Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow to his feet, but not until Mayor Percy Scurrah had told council that "I got a letter from the ministerial association which took me apart for being in that parade."

AFTER HOURS

His answer, he said, wasn't perhaps too gracious, because the parade was after church hours and "I pointed out that if they wanted to censure this sort of thing there are plenty of things going on in the city on Sundays equally open to criticism."

Ald. Edgelow extracted from Ald. McLean that by cavorting he meant frolicking around in a light-hearted way.

LAUGHING ON SUNDAY

"Well," said Ald. Edgelow, "I don't know anything in the Lord's Day Act or that the Lord himself would say against laughing on a Sunday."

Elk Lake came into council discussion in another connection yesterday. Saanich council, the aldermen were advised, had agreed to place $5,000 in its budget toward a proposed $21,000 Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks budget.

MORE THAN VICTORIA

Ald. Edgelow maintained that with its growing population, Saanich was using Beaver and Elk Lakes more than Victoria, and should take care of an increasing share of the cost of the parks.

Council decided to consider sharing costs up to a mutually agreed amount on a 50-50 basis. In past years, Victoria has contributed $2 to Saanich's $1.

Great West

Insurance Contract Awarded

Contract for the group life insurance for B.C. civil servants has been awarded to Great West Life Assurance Company, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black announced yesterday.

Waldo Skillings, personal friend of Premier Bennett, is a representative here of Great West and it had been charged during the sitting of the legislature that he was already slated to get the contract. But, when sealed tenders were opened in public his company was the lowest bidder of 23 companies, with a bid of 38 cents per $1,000, half that of some companies.

It is expected the plan will offer coverage to some 10,000 civil servants and will go into force July 1.

Spencer's

Mall Plan On Display

Victoria's downtown improvement plan is being pictorially displayed where passers-by can see it.

Cards illustrating the plan, including the proposed View Street parking garage and its associated malls and arcades, are in the windows of Spencer's Stores Ltd. on Douglas.

Board and Award Rapped by Wurtele

Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt, which was not involved in the conciliation which gave police and firemen an 11 per cent wage boost recently, last night criticized both the conciliation board and the award.

Police and firemen in Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay were all given the award in a binding decision by the conciliation board, with a Vancouver man, Frederick Cope, as chairman.

"One of the weaknesses is that you have a new chairman each year," Reeve Wurtele said. "Each district differs and therefore it is ridiculous to compare Vancouver and Victoria.

"I think it is still more ridiculous to bring someone over from Vancouver. Surely they get get someone qualified from here?"

Esquimalt municipality recently settled with its inside and outside staffs for a five per cent increase, without arbitration.

"We had a similar circumstance a few years ago," Reeve Wurtele said. "We settled with the inside and outside staffs for six per cent but due to a complete misunderstanding, firemen got a 13.3 per cent increase."

The municipality gave an additional two per cent to other workers as a gesture of goodwill. The following year an arbitration board gave firemen no increase, Reeve Wurtele said.

U.S. Festival Queen Coming

Queen of the Sequim, Wash., irrigation festival and her two princesses will be guests of the Victoria Lions Club at a luncheon meeting April 29 at the Empress Hotel.

They will come to Victoria with Matt Strauss, chairman of the festival committee in the Olympic Peninsula centre.

Satin-Glos Win Fivepin League

Satin-Glos won the Bapco Fivepin Bowling League title last night at Gibson's Bowladrome with a team total of 2,907. Bapco 50's were second with 2,893. Members of the winning team were B. Walsh (capt.), J. Keeler, R. Thomson, D. Dallaway and D. Hadley.

$11,132,191 in Grants Goes to Municipalities

The cabinet yesterday approved $11,132,191 for per capita grants to municipal governments.

Victoria, population 54,584, will get $475,796; Esquimalt, population 10,384, gets $129,072; Oak Bay, population 14,857, gets $164,856; Saanich, population 38,358, gets $352,864.

To Come Up on May 12

Hot Words Exchanged Over Secrecy Bylaw

Scurrah, Mooney Tangle

Although Mayor Percy Scurrah insisted it wasn't up for debate, a draft bylaw to place a new restriction on press attendance at council meetings evoked a few hot words in council yesterday.

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean gave notice of intention to introduce the draft bylaw at council's May 12 meeting.

BALL ROLLING

Then he started the ball rolling by suggesting to the press that it shouldn't be labelled a secrecy bylaw—"With all goodwill to the press, I suggest that that is a misinterpretation."

(The existing procedure bylaw says reporters may be excluded by a majority vote of a committee. The proposed new provision is that they would be admitted only by invitation of a committee).

NO CHANCE

Then Ald. Hugh Ramsay rose to say that even though the draft bylaw appeared to have no chance of passing, he thought it would be worth while to have "certain points aired, including the comments of a radio commentator."

The commentator, he said, had attempted to "intimidate and browbeat council" over the draft bylaw.

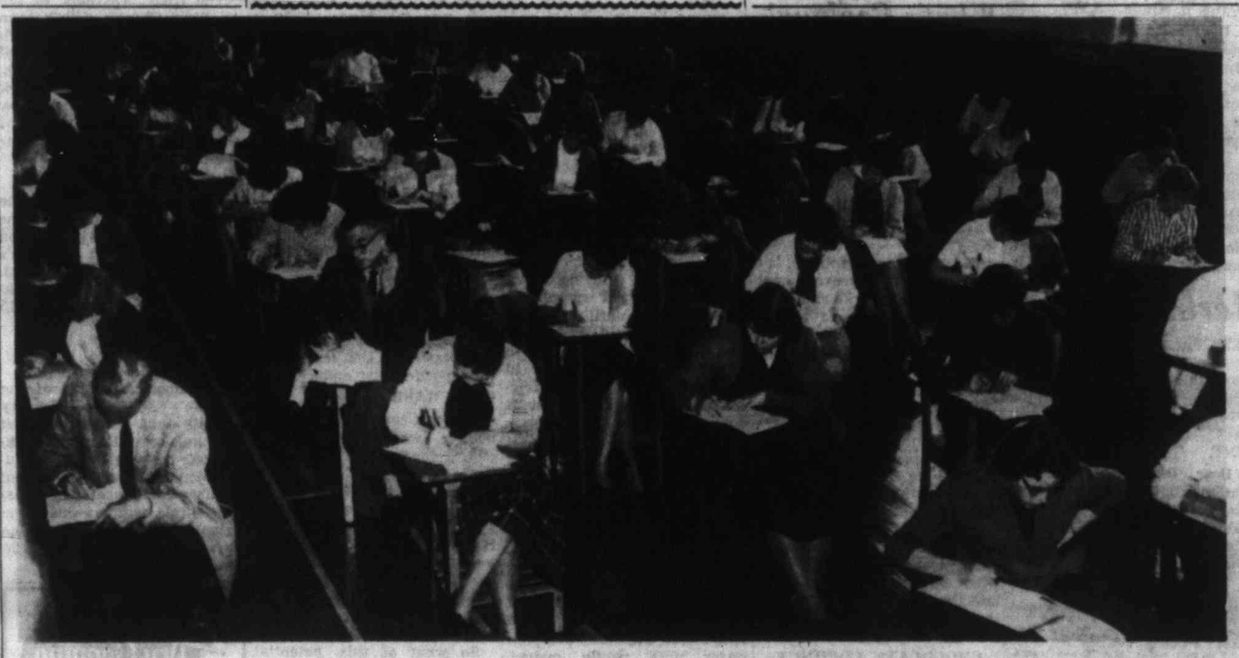
And finally Ald. M. H. Mooney and Mayor Scurrah tangled over news of the draft—the result of a closed meeting of council—appearing in the newspapers.

IN CAMERA

The meeting was in camera, Ald. Mooney said, and someone had been talking about it when they shouldn't.

"Are you referring to me?" demanded Mayor Scurrah. "My views are well known and have been stated in public in council. I said I wouldn't support it, period. I'm not responsible for the stories in the press . . . I have no apologies to make."

Actually, other aldermen pointed out, nothing had appeared in the press until the draft bylaw became available Wednesday.



It's Examination Time at the University

Greater Victoria schoolchildren can take heart from this picture showing 87 future teachers—education students at Victoria University—taking examinations themselves. It's examination time at the university and the exams won't end until April 29.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

'Legalized Robbery'

No Welcome Mat Out for Carnival

No civic welcome mat will be out this May for the carnival which last year provoked a storm of criticism.

The Victoria Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition yesterday asked city council for permission to bring in Gayland Shows from May 16 to 21.

Council left the decision to the Memorial Arena Commission, which has been given jurisdiction over the property around the arena, but advised it that "council does not look with favor on the visit of this organization and in the event of permission being granted suggests that a bond for good behavior be provided."

"Last year there was what amounted to a riot at the show," City Clerk M. F. Hunter told council after Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean had first expressed doubts about it. "People were so mad they did something about it."

Ald. McLean said it was common knowledge that in some carnivals "the operator takes most of the money and those foolish enough to play take very little . . . In my book it's legalized robbery."

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow suggested that bonding should be required of all such organizations coming into the city, and council incorporated the bonding suggestion despite City Solicitor T. P. O'Grady's advice that "not a company in the country would issue such a bond."

Other council action yesterday:

- The aldermen refused a grant to Loretto Hall, a non-profit boarding home for women which solicitor Joseph McKennan said "is not there for gain, but to do Christian duty to womankind."
- They decided to be as well represented as possible at celebration of the centenary of St. John's Church May 4.
- Second-hand dealer W. A. Scott's letter asking for compensation for his legal expenses in winning acquittal from a charge of possessing stolen goods was referred to the city solicitor for advice.

Pipeline Protest Studied

Appeal of Island Transmission Co. of Nanaimo against a franchise to pipe natural gas to Vancouver Island, which was granted to Magna Pipelines by the Public Utilities Commission after lengthy public hearings, is now being studied by the provincial cabinet.

A decision is expected within two or three weeks.

For Reserve

Day-Cruises Cancelled By Navy

Easter weekend day-cruises aboard a navy harbor craft for members of HMCS Malahat, Victoria's naval reserve division, scheduled for today and Monday, have been cancelled.

The harbor craft, along with HMCS Oriole, has been stormbound in a Puget Sound port for the past 24 hours and this fact, plus uncertain weather conditions, has forced the sudden cancellation.

Sussexvale to Get New Commander

Lt.-Cmdr. Henry Joy, at present staff officer (plans and coastal defence) on the staff of the Flag Officer Pacific Coast, will take command of HMCS Sussexvale April 27.

The ship, now on a training cruise to South America, is due back April 22.

Closing Day

Switch by Barbers May Be Too Late

Victoria's barbers may have retreated too late from seeking and fighting a change in the bylaw making Wednesday their closing day.

Originally 32 of the city's licensed barbers, a three-fifths majority, petitioned council to change the day to Monday. Then some changed their minds and signed counter-petitions. Yesterday assistant city clerk Morran Waller told council 49 barbers had withdrawn their names from previous petitions.

But council instructed the city solicitor to prepare a bylaw enabling barbers to choose their own individual closing days.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay pointed out that council had formed a policy in leaving store and service station hours to the operators, and suggested the barbers' situation should be handled the same way—"Let them carry out their own business in the way they want to."

"I think what Ald. Ramsay suggests is what the barbers are afraid might happen," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

"Forty-nine have withdrawn their names. In other words, they want to stay as they are. They don't want to lose their bylaw," said Mayor Percy Scurrah.

But he and a majority of council agreed with Ald. Ramsay's suggestion.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 15-mile-an-hour speed limit in Vancouver school zones was restored by city council Tuesday. The zones had been illegal since a provincial law came into effect March 18, making the B.C. limit 20 miles an hour.

Pacific Club Tax Appeal On Thursday

Appeal of the Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association against the Pacific Club being removed from the city business tax roll by a court of revision is scheduled to be heard Thursday in B.C. Supreme Court.

Collision Hurts Young Cyclist

David Morley, 14, 3501 Salsbury Way, was in satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital after breaking a leg when his bicycle was in collision with a car at Fairfield and Masters at 7.15 p.m. yesterday.

The car was driven by Clarence J. Weimer, of Work Point Barracks, police said. Occupants of the car took the boy to hospital.

Thief Gets Varied Loot

Variety was the keynote for a thief who broke into the apartment of Mrs. A. J. Carrington, at 1060 Craigdarroch, sometime Wednesday.

Mrs. Carrington told city police that the thief stole:

A $20 bill from a teapot; a dinner jacket and pleated shirt; a pair of cufflinks; a radio; a sheet of plastic and two pairs of nylons.

Police found no indication of the burglar's means of entry.

Portuguese Boy Due Here Disappears in Vancouver

A 16-year-old Portuguese boy due to arrive in Victoria early this week to visit relatives has disappeared, presumably in Vancouver.

Juan Francisco da Deus was supposed to arrive in Vancouver Tuesday or Wednesday by plane from Portugal, en route to visit his brother-in-law, John Galvao, 1544 Amphion Street.

A check showed that Juan, who speaks no English, was on the passenger list of the flight from Portugal, but apparently dropped out of sight in Vancouver. He was supposed to catch a Trans-Canada Air Lines flight for Victoria.

Ronly Bonly Only Baloney

The saga of Ronly Bonly Jones ground to a halt yesterday amid a jangle of telephones and outraged cries from the department of education.

Yesterday's Colonist carried the story of how R. (only) B. (only) Jones became a school inspector up-Island and received a pay cheque made out to Ronly Bonly Jones. As it turned out, the story came third-hand — from a Duncan service club paper which got it from a back issue of a large-circulation magazine.

The Colonist's correspondent at the scene spent yesterday explaining the gaffe to one chortling caller after another.

Civil servants in the department of education were reported to be up in arms over what they considered a slur on their intelligence.

A. D. Jones, school superintendent at Duncan (and no kin to Ronly Bonly) was not available for comment.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: In the past several years I've flipped numerous times over good-looking, line-shooting, inconsiderate jerks. I wish I had a dollar for every heel who dropped me without so much as a goodbye.

Now I've met a guy who is almost too good. Hollywood wouldn't chase him but he wouldn't scare small children either. He's sincere, honest, faithful and kind. We go to church together and he has fine morals. He has a few faults which annoy me. He talks constantly in movies and brags too much. He's also younger than I am.

He has asked me to marry him. Shall I say yes or no? Please don't tell me to decide for myself. If I could I wouldn't be writing to you.—A.O.F.

Dear A.O.F.: The yakking in the movies could be eliminated by one sentence. The bragging could probably be modified by polite suggestion. But the age is the hooker. How much younger?

Your omission of the vital statistics leads me to suspect there's quite a gap, which is the real reason you can't decide. Let's have the facts, Ma'am.

See a Specialist

Dear Ann Landers: About the boy who had a bad case of acne and wrote to you for help. I held my breath until I came to your last sentence and heaved a sigh of relief when I read it. You said "see a skin specialist."

Thank heavens you didn't say "see a psychiatrist." Everybody and his brother seems to think that psychiatrists have all the answers. I've known people who have gone to headshrinkers for everything from an inferiority complex caused by bow legs to a fear of sitting in the sidecar of a motorcycle.

You hinted that diet, medication and lamps might help the acne. Even this is dangerous. Americans are a great group for do-it-yourself projects and home-doctoring. A hint of this type could encourage thousands of people to plaster themselves with a salve of ground newt's tongue, sip alligator milk and eat lichee nuts under ultraviolet lamps. Watch it, Annie.—S.T.

Dear S.T.: That acne letter produced an avalanche of mail from readers who wanted me to print home remedies for getting rid of skin problems—so I'm well aware of what you mean.

I repeat—if you have skin trouble see a dermatologist. And I must add, if you have a crushing emotional problem which you cannot resolve alone, or with the help of a clergyman—see a psychiatrist.

Live at Herbie's?

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter is 26 years old and a bit overweight. She's about 180 pounds and is five-foot four. Gladys has a nice personality and holds down a very good job. She's been going with Herbie for two years who is 29. He lives at home with his folks and works at the same factory with Gladys.

They are not engaged but she tells me she is sure they will be married in a year or two.

The problem is this: She wants to move into this fellow's home because it is much closer to the factory than ours, and she'd get to see a lot more of him. His parents think it's okay. She would pay them $25 a week. My husband and I don't think it would look nice. She says there is nothing wrong with it. What do you say?—RESPECTABLE PARENT.

Dear Respectable: I say you're right. If Gladys and Herbie want to live under the same roof, why don't they get married? Your daughter is old enough—and so is he.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Chocolate Eggs Real Party Fare

Today the enchantment of Easter means the excitement of bunnies, of chicks and chocolate eggs. Children's parties all over the land will bid the Easter Bunny welcome. For the homemaker, making plans for a party table, there are lots of ideas to make this the season's most memorable feast for the youngsters. The Easter Bunny himself made with individual ice cream balls rolled in tender thin flaked coconut with ears made of the split halves of a banana. But with chicks and Easter bunnies, there must be Easter Eggs and when you make these Chocolate Coconut Eggs, the youngsters will decide the Easter Bunny's arrived for sure.

CHOCOLATE COCONUT EASTER EGGS

2 cups sugar; ⅛ teaspoon salt; ½ cup milk; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 tablespoon light corn syrup; 1 teaspoon vanilla; ½ to ⅔ cup tender thin flaked coconut; 1 package (8 squares) semi-sweet chocolate.

To make the fondant centres, combine sugar, salt, milk, butter and corn syrup in saucepan. Place over low heat and stir constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils. Cover and cook 3 minutes, then remove cover and continue boiling, without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a soft ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 230 deg. F.). During cooking, wipe down sides of pan occasionally with damp cloth. Remove from heat and pour out on cold, wet platter, or porcelain table top, or on a greased surface. Cool to lukewarm (110 deg. F.). Work with broad spatula or wooden paddle until white and creamy. Add vanilla and knead until smooth. Then wrap in waxed paper and store in tightly-covered jar in refrigerator to ripen for at least 24 hours before shaping.

To make eggs, add coconut to the ripened fondant and knead until well mixed. Form into egg shapes. Let stand for several hours to dry. Then dip in melted chocolate as directed below.

For best results in dipping, have room temperature between 60 deg. F. and 70 deg. F. Heat 1 package (8 squares) semi-sweet chocolate over hot water until partly melted. Then remove from hot water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. When chocolate feels cool to the touch (or when cooled to a temperature of 83 deg. F.), dip fondant quickly in chocolate, then place on waxed paper to harden. Decorate eggs as desired. Makes about 1½ pounds.

EASTER BUNNIES

To make each bunny head, roll a scoop of vanilla ice cream in tender thin flaked coconut. Place on serving dish. To make ears, peel a banana, cut in half, and split lengthwise; fasten two of these pieces to top of head with toothpicks.

Use almonds for eyes and piece of maraschino cherry for nose. Draw a bow on plate under "chin" of bunny, using tinted whipped cream pressed through a decorating tube.

Tips for Parents

Delinquent Scale Based on Family

By HELEN R. HEWSON

That disturbing phrase "juvenile delinquent" has been much in the news recently.

A trans-Canada radio program devoted a half hour discussion to the topic with parents, teachers, psychiatrists, community workers and the young people themselves joining in.

Dispatches from the 1960 White House conference where 7,000 delegates spent a week discussing children and youth, report a serious concern for the mounting incidence of juvenile delinquency in North American communities.

★ ★ ★

All parents know that bringing up children is a difficult job. They know that most children are defiant and rebellious now and then as they struggle towards maturity.

The delinquent child or youth is one who is so far gone in rebellion that he gets into trouble with the police.

★ ★ ★

Since the war there have been many reports and studies of delinquency.

At present serious attention is being given to the work of Dr. Sheldon Glueck and his wife who are professors at Harvard Law School. Last summer they published the Glueck Social Prediction Scale which provides a new way of discovering the potential delinquent.

The use of the Glueck Scale has met with some skepticism and resistance.

The most frequently expressed objection is that children would be branded for life, but the professional people handling the test would treat the information as confidential.

★ ★ ★

The Glueck scale is based on five family factors, (1) affection of the father and (2) of the mother for the child, (3) method of discipline of the father, (4) supervision by the mother, (5) cohesiveness of the family.

All studies show that the causes of delinquency are many, a combination of environmental and personality factors that influence the child's behavior.

It does not appear in the families where the parents are themselves honest and trustworthy, where the discipline is firm and reasonable and where the children feel comfortable with their parents.

Katie Molson

Real Life Story Would Make Movie

By MARGARET AITKEN

Some Canadian writer should weave a novel around the real-life story of Montreal-born Katie Molson and her racing-driver husband Stirling Moss.

It has all the ingredients for a penetrating story of tensions, excitement and romance. And what a film it would make!

The Montreal girl, who was educated at King's College in Compton (Quebec), met and married the internationally-known sports car racer some two years ago. She was 22 years old and he 28.

They have travelled the world since then, with Mr. Moss participating in most of the international races.

At first his young wife was always present at those races but in recent months she did not attend.

Apparently their friends noticed this but they had no idea a separation was imminent.

A Sunday Express reporter interviewed Katie Molson Moss in Nassau, where she and her husband made their home.

THE QUOTES

It was the quotes in that interview that made me realize what an exciting yet haunting movie the Moss story would make.

"There are many problems a racing wife must face," said Mrs. Moss. "One of them is the increasing pressure which builds up inside you.

"This creates worries, troubles and frustrations. The situation finally becomes so difficult that something definite has to be done.

"That is what we are trying to do now."

Less than a year after her marriage, Mrs. Moss had her first taste of the tensions a racing wife must endure.

THE CRASH

In the Grand Prix at Casablanca, two drivers crashed, one of them a close friend of Katie and Stirling Moss. Both drivers died.

A few weeks ago, Stirling Moss won a sports car race in Havana. His wife did not attend that race and after it was over, Mr. Moss flew to London instead of his Nassau home.

This was the first indication of a separation.

So what of this potential movie?

Katie Molson is chic and pretty; Stirling Moss handsome with a smile that would delight any toothpaste manufacturer.

And think of the excitement that could be worked up through the car racing, not to mention those personal tensions of the young wife.

And how would the movie end? Well, the last words of that interview add up to as good an ending as any fiction writer could supply.

Stirling Moss' father had the last words . . .

"The trouble is due to the fact of their chasing about the world and the strain that has gone with it.

"We are hoping that if they are apart for a while, they might get together again. Katie is a very nice girl.

"The trouble with young people today is they get married and then don't seem to know what to do with their lives."

Lily Rose Finbow Weds B. M. Tennison

Bride is the daughter of Mrs. Finbow of 3371 Oak Street, and the late Mr. George Finbow. Groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Tennison, 882 Beckwith Avenue.

Rev. George Biddle officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A stately gown of lace and satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding dress. With a basque bodice of lace the neckline was outlined with iridescent sequins.

A flowing skirt of satin swept to a bustle bow effect at the back, finishing in a train. Her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white feathered carnations.

Mrs. G. Harrison was matron of honor for her sister and wore pink lace over taffeta on prineess style and matching hat of nylon and sequins.

Mrs. S. Tennison, bridesmatron wore blue nylon over taffeta with matching hat and bridesmaid, Miss Linda Matte chose yellow nylon with matching hat. All carried white feathered carnation bouquets.

Colette Hanford had a flower girl's dress of yellow organdy, flower headdress and carried a colonial bouquet.

English Girl Likes Air Force Life Here

Victoria has only one female member of the Royal Canadian Air Force stationed here, and that is Leading Airwoman Patricia Freeman, who serves at the RCAF Recruiting Unit.

Miss Freeman is not Canadian, she is English, but when her first term of duty with the RCAF ends, in 1961, she is keen to sign on again.

Pat lived and worked in London, and all she knew of this continent was what she had read in books.

Then one day a friend joined the RCAF and thinking that was a good idea she did the same.

Why the Canadian Air Force?

UNIFORM SMART

Canada was a country she wanted to see for herself. RCAF girl's uniform is smarter than the English counterpart, and the pay is better. Pat has been able to make a collection of long-play records which she could not afford to do at home.

She started her service life as soon as she set foot in Canada, in February, 1958, and "signed-on" for three years. After training for 11 weeks at St. John's, Quebec, she was drafted to Aylmer, Ont.; Parent, Que.; then Comox, Vancouver Island, and in February this year, to Victoria.

LAW PATRICIA FREEMAN, RCAF

SURPRISES

Her biggest surprises in Canada were its size, its people and its food.

The immense distances in Canada are hard for English people to imagine without seeing for themselves.

People surprised her because they were so much like people back home, and Pat had not expected that.

Food she finds extravagant compared with English fare.

For anyone adaptable there are wonderful opportunities here thinks LAW Freeman. She says that until she left England she did not realize the experiences she was missing.

HOMESICK

Like most people, Miss Freeman had her share of homesickness and missed her family of six brothers and sisters, left behind in London.

So last Christmas she flew home for seven weeks leave.

All the time she was there she felt cold and was glad to board the plane back to B.C., although parting with her family again was hard.

During her time back home she found some sights and sounds of London came as a surprise to her. The once-familiar red buses looked strange, and the lights of London, specially from the air, was a big thrill.

FINDS SECURITY

Service life suits Pat just fine. Discipline does not worry her, and she finds security in being part of the air force.

Miss Freeman is the only woman on the staff at the Recruiting Unit and helps new recruits with their problems. She is a wonderful example of a happy service girl and is an asset to any recruiting campaign.

In her spare time Pat loves walking and is looking forward to getting to know Victoria better. At present she is studying for an exam and finds that takes up a lot of time.

Of the future she thinks she will be content to remain in uniform for some time yet, and will be happy to sign on again when her three years are up.

Cottrell Chosen

Mr. L. Cottrell was elected president of the Greater Victoria Association for Retarded Children at the annual meeting held on Tuesday at the school, 1075 Joan Crescent.

Other officers are Mrs. Ronald Jeune, vice-president; Mrs. J. Rynoski, treasurer; Mr. A. E. Raymond, recording secretary; and Miss Norah Couchman, general secretary.

Appointed to the executive were Mrs. L. T. N. Andrews, Mrs. D. A. Robertson, Mrs. W. Badyk, Mr. Harvey Mickleson, Dr. Ian Kenning, Mr. Neil Crawford, Mr. R. B. Brooks, Mrs. E. Winter, Mrs. W. McFadden, Mrs. J. Turford, Mrs. B. Packford, and Mr. Al Kubick.

Future aims of the association will be an immediate plan for extension of services to the community, pre-school groups and post-school age classes being urgently needed.

It was reported that older girls, all over school age, had made and sold more than 200 Easter eggs. These girls will also give a dinner for their parents before the end of the term.

Sunday Ride In Colwood

At least 50 riders are expected to take part in the Easter Sunday trail ride sponsored by the Colwood Trail Riders.

Riders will meet at Wilkinson and Interurban at 9.45 a.m. to assemble for the six-hour ride through the Highland district.

Coffee and soft drinks will be served but riders were urged to bring sandwiches.

Water Safety Courses Set By Red Cross

Dates for water safety instructor courses throughout British Columbia have been announced by the B.C. division Canadian Red Cross.

Applicants interested in attending the Victoria schools should send applications to Mrs. W. H. Brimblecombe, water safety chairman, Canadian Red Cross Society, 1046 Fort, Victoria.

Dates for the Victoria schools will be April 23 and 24; April 31 and May 1; May 7 and 8, and May 14 and 15. Further information may be obtained at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort.

Lindgren-Adkins

Attendants in Pink

At a choral service in Centennial United Church on Thursday evening, Mary Louise Adkins, became the bride of Mr. Philip Arthur Lindgren. Rev. Dr. S. J. Parsons officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Adkins, Glasgow Street, and the late Mr. George L. Adkins, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Lindgren, Kent Road.

The bride, given in marraige by Mr. George Mathers, was lovely in a wedding gown of lace and tulle over satin, styled with lily point sleeves, scalloped neckline and skirt with slight train. Her elbow-length veil was held by a pearl and petal coronet and she carried gardenias and feathered carnations.

Her jewelry was a diamond and aquamarine pendant, a gift from the groom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Norman Pietach was matron-of-honor and Miss Jean Davidson and Miss Betty Forrester, bridesmaids.

They wore waltz-length dresses in pastel pink tied with pink satin sashes, matching headdresses of velvet bows and veiling. Their colonial bouquets were of carnations and violets.

Mr. Guy Roberts was best man and Mr. Lowell Piedt and Mr. Robert Wetmore, ushers.

A reception was held at the Olde England Inn where a three-tiered cake topped with lily-of-the-valley centred the bride's table. Mr. E. G. Bonfoy proposed the toast.

A suit of muted blue with sapphire mink collar, mauve flower hat and navy accessories was worn by Mrs. Lindgren when the couple left for a wedding trip to Carmel, California.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER

Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, lightweight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood. It is very easily worked, is free from pitch, takes and holds stains, paints and enamels excellently, and is superior for gluing. Because of these qualities, Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY

Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING CHARACTERISTICS

Left exposed without paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen. It is one of the most stable species of lumber, having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING QUALITIES

Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly used soft woods--another point in its favor as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

DOUGLAS FIR PLYWOOD
(Waterproof Glue)
13½-Ft. INBOARD
Designed by Edwin Monk Naval Architect
PLANS and Specifications with MATERIAL LIST and COMPLETE INSTRUCTIONS

This plan embodies all the advantages of fir plywood construction and is excellent for fishing on bays, lakes, or streams. It is relatively fast and holds four people comfortably.

It is sturdy with ⅜" marine grade Douglas fir plywood planking on sides and bottom. Yet it is easy to build as planking with plywood means a single panel forms each side with two panels covering the bottom.

As the initial step in preparing to build this plywood boat, make a thorough study of the plans, noting carefully the construction details of each station, and reviewing the materials listed in the fir plywood and lumber order.

Obtain the required plywood, lumber and other materials from your local retail lumber dealer.

In ordering plywood, be sure to specify Douglas fir plywood which has completely waterproof bond for all outdoor and marine applications.

SIX SIMPLE TIPS OFFERED FOR HAPPY HOURS AFLOAT

To get the most enjoyment out of a boat, assuring safe, carefree hours afloat for the whole family, here are six tips for the skipper:

1. Make sure all hands know how to board your craft without tipping it. Boats do not tip by themselves—careless people tip them.
2. Know your motor, what it will do and what it will not. Learn how to start, stop and change gears and speeds in varying situations. Instruction manuals come with most new motors. The manufacturer will supply you with another if the original is lost.
3. Learn how to leave a dock or mooring under power, make a landing or come alongside another boat. Practice these manoeuvres until you know ho wto handle your craft expertly.
4. Learn and obey the nautical rules of the road.
5. Be weatherwise. Get the weather forecast before you set out on the water. Learn the weather signs in your home waters. Clouds and wind movements foretell changes in the weather. Keep your radio tuned to weather reports.
6. Learn to read official government charts and always obtain those for the waters in which you are navigating. Safe channels, underwater obstructions and aids to navigation are shown on these "road maps of the waterways."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	5 N.T.	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	6 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead: ♡ 6

The fact that there is a growing multitude of conventions disturbs many players because they feel they need a phenomenal memory to handle all of them. If one were to try to learn every one, this would be quite true. However, a working knowledge of half a dozen is sufficient.

The bidding is described as it should go. When this hand actually came up, North tried Blackwood, found out his partner had two aces, gambled that one of them was the spade ace, and bid seven. East made a sporting double, and that was that.

The direct response of five no-trump to an opening bid or to opener's rebid is a trump-asking bid—better known as the grand slam force. With any two of the three top honors in the last-mentioned suit, the player being asked must bid seven in that suit.

Partnerships usually decide how to handle responses when two honors are not held. One solution is to bid six of the trump suit with either the ace or king, six clubs with no honors at all, and six diamonds and six hearts to show intermediate holdings. Naturally, this method works best when the agreed suits is spades, as more responses are available.

A great many hands arise where we are interested only in partner's trump holding. To discover this, no better method has yet been devised than the five no-trump asking bid.

Keep in mind, however, that when five no-trump is preceded by four no-trump it is a Blackwood bid asking for kings, and not the grand slam force.

Eight-Year Task — But Future Bright

Caring for 300 Homeless Waifs Poor Taxi Driver's Nightmare

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Porfirio Guerrero, a poor taxi-driver known as Popi, for eight years has single-handedly been taking care of some 300 children who otherwise would go hungry, unclothed and uneducated.

Years ago Popi met a priest who ran a centre where he taught, fed and cured as many poor children as he could. Popi began to help out, hauling the priest around in his beaten-up taxi, running errands, sometimes donating a few pesos.

The priest died in 1952, and as there was no one to take over, Popi decided to do the job himself. It was a nightmare, he soon found out.

The Centro Cultural San Francisco is a one-storey, four-room, rundown, dark, unheated place with an oil-drum cookstove and little else.

Popi worked overtime as a taxi driver and spent the rest of the time at the centre.

He admits he isn't much of an administrator. But he kept the place going, managed to get food to feed his brood, five young women to teach in the overcrowded rooms, and received help from young doctors who worked one at a time in the dispensary.

The teachers are promised 100 pesos ($8) a month, and parents are supposed to pay five pesos a month for tuition. Few do, and the teachers often go unpaid.

But now the story of his fight and his plight have become known. Publicity brought numerous single donations and gifts, but Popi and his "centro" needed donations of food, clothing, medicine and cash he could depend on. This is now being arranged by a committee, and the future looks brighter.

Wants Bomarc — New Interceptor

Air Force in a Fix

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCAF is in a fix.

It wants both the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile and a new manned interceptor to replace the CF-100 jet.

Every time the Bomarc fails a test, chances of getting it go down and chances of obtaining a manned interceptor go up.

If the Bomarc flies — as it did Wednesday for the first time in eight attempts — the RCAF's chances of getting it increase and chances of getting the interceptor decrease.

There's no way the RCAF can figure out how to get both.

Authorities have said the government plans to dismantle the nine CF-100 squadrons in Canada if and when the Bomarc comes into service as scheduled in late 1961.

The United States Air Force has proposed that the Canadian government acquire three supersonic F-101 squadrons to replace the subsonic CF-100 units. No decision on this is likely until the Bomarc proves out, fails or is cancelled by the U.S. Congress.

Defence Minister Pearkes interrupted regular Commons business Wednesday to announce the successful 170-mile flight of the Bomarc from Elgin air force base in Florida.

Liberal Paul Hellyer, former associate defence minister, said Mr. Pearkes shouldn't let one success go to his head and that Canada should pull out of the Bomarc program altogether.

Coincidental with Mr. Pearkes' announcement was one in the British Commons that the Blue Streak ballistic rocket has been cancelled.

British Defence Minister Harold Watkinson indicated that RAF Bomber Command will be equipped with the American Skybolt air-to-ground rocket. This would enable the British bombers to launch rockets when still 1,000 miles away from their targets.

Security Planning Tight For Visit of de Gaulle

By JACK BEST

OTTAWA (CP) — Tight security arrangements have been made for the state visit of French President Charles de Gaulle next week.

RCMP and local police are not leaving anything to chance despite the widespread admiration and esteem in which the 69-year-old statesman is held in this country.

An RCMP spokesman estimated that altogether 2,000 to 3,000 policemen — plainclothes and uniformed — will be involved with security either directly or indirectly during de Gaulle's four-day Canadian visit. Indirect security measures would include traffic and crowd control.

The French head of state and his wife arrive here at Uplands Airport at 6 p.m. Easter Monday to be greeted by a 21-gun salute.

Memories of Ottawa residents will turn back to the time when Gen. de Gaulle was last here, Aug. 28-29, 1945, as provisional president of the Fourth Republic. This was just a few weeks after the capitulation of Japan had ended the Second World War and the heady tang of victory was still in the air.

The French leader had also visited Ottawa in July, 1944, as head of the Free French movement. This was about a month before the liberation of Paris.

For the coming visit three other Canadian cities—Quebec City, Montreal and Toronto—are on his itinerary in addition to Ottawa. He will be here until Wednesday morning when he flies to Quebec.

Excellent Taste

Morocco Show Color-Bright

By INA D. D. UHTHOFF

The installation of the current exhibition of the arts of Morocco is another example of the unerring good taste for color which typifies the imaginative work of Colin Graham in this particular field.

The golds and blues of the Ovarzazate rugs and the black and white of the Berber village-made ones punctuate the display of brass and copper ware, heavily handsome hand-wrought silver ornaments, pottery, baskets and leatherwork.

Many influences have been at work on the arts of Morocco Hispano-Moorish, Islamic African, Arabian as well as European. The utensils still used in the walled strongholds are reminiscent of Etruscan and Roman design.

Several examples are shown of the short cat-like garment which is the traditional dress of the men and boys.

The diellaba is generally spun and woven from native wool but it is also made out of a heavy wind-resisting material embroidered in color. It has a hood attached and its style remains unchanged since its introduction during the 11th century, along with the Chinese arts, by the numerous Mongol invasions from Central Asia.

Turkish influence is apparent in many of the arts, particularly in the design motifs used in the weaving of the rugs.

This exhibition is sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Art Gallery.

In the new Ker wing, adjacent to the main gallery, a selection of drawings in charcoal and red chalk by Fred Hosman Varley can be studied.

In my opinion Varley has been, for the last 40 years, Canada's most distinguished draftsman. Though a member of the Group of Seven, he stands apart as his interest has always been more in human beings than in landscape. His portraits are his most important work.

In this collection of drawings which belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Band of Toronto my favorite is "Profile," a lovely study of a girl's head, but "Girl With Apple," is possibly better known as it has been reproduced so extensively.

"Three Figures Reclining," is one of the most interesting of the drawings on account of the powerful use of line. From as far back as 1923 there is a slight but masterly sketch in oils on brown paper, "Women With Child."

Deportation Appeal Fails For Impostor

OTTAWA (CP) — Robert Parkin Peters, fired by the University of Ottawa for misrepresenting his academic qualifications, has lost his fight against a deportation order.

The immigration department has announced that the three-member immigration appeal board has dismissed his appeal. Peters attended Normal School in Victoria but never graduated.

Six Days' Jail Worth $100

EDMONTON (CP)—George Letendre of Edmonton is richer by $100 because he spent too much time in jail.

That's the amount the provincial government paid Letrendre to compensate him for serving six extra days in jail after being convicted of driving while disqualified. A court error was blamed.

Arrested

Bomb Scare Joker Finds Joke's on Him

MONTREAL (CP)—A man identified by police as Alistair McKay of Toronto was arrested early yesterday after telling a stewardess aboard a TCA plane that there was a bomb in his briefcase.

Police said Mackay was one of 59 passengers aboard a plane that had taken off from Montreal airport at suburban Dorval for Toronto.

A stewardess told police the aircraft was only minutes out from the airport when she reached for a briefcase and was told by a man sitting nearby: "Don't touch the briefcase—it contains a bomb."

The stewardess notified the pilot who decided to return to Dorval. Provincial police were called and the man was arrested. No bomb was found in the briefcase. The plane was delayed two hours.

India's wheat crop this year was a record 362 million bushels, about 25 per cent more than last year.

26 Bids Slated For CBC Hearing

OTTAWA (CP)—A total of 26 applications will be heard by the Board of Broadcast Governors at its Edmonton and Calgary public hearings next month, it was announced Thursday.

Heading the Edmonton list are five applications, four by private interests and one by the CBC, for the licence to operate the city's second television station.

There are two private applications for the second TV station in Calgary.

The hearings will open in Edmonton on Tuesday, May 10, and move to Calgary on Monday, May 16.

Existing TV stations in both cities now are privately-owned, though affiliated with the CBC for network program purposes.

Other applications to be heard in Edmonton include two bids to operate a new television station in Prince George, B.C.

The Calgary hearing also will consider applications for a new AM radio station in Vancouver; a new FM station in Port Arthur.

Show Business

By Dick Williams

Maurice Chevalier is one of the many guest stars in the new multi-million-dollar movie musical "Pepe," which stars Mexican comic Cantinflas.

His sequence, shot in a Las Vegas Hotel, features the French star in straw hat and strut performing the famous "Mimi" number with which he has been identified for more than 30 years. His pout, his accent are unmistakable.

Tourists momentarily deserting the slot machines and gaming tables were allowed to watch the filming.

One lady tapped the picture's unit manager on the arm. "Can you tell me the name of the actor who's playing Maurice Chevalier?" she asked.

HOSPITAL STAFFS

Twenty per cent of the 131,900 full-time employees of public hospitals in Canada in 1958 were graduate nurses.

'Garden City' Set for Surrey

VANCOUVER (CP)—Plans for development of a multi-million-dollar garden city in the municipality of Surrey, about 15 miles southeast of here, were announced yesterday by General Sir Ouvry L. Roberts, president of Grosvenor-Laing (B.C.) Ltd.

Gen. Roberts said it is believed the centre, to be based on similar developments in Europe, will be the first of its type in North America. He said at least a year of planning will be necessary before construction can begin.

Grosvenor-Laing, which recently developed a planned industrial estate on Annacis Island in the Fraser River and now is developing a commercial and residential estate at Langley about 10 miles east of the proposed new development, has acquired about 120 acres near the new Trans-Canada Highway for the city centre.

The new development, to be known as Guildford Carden City, will include a shopping centre, multi-storey apartment blocks, an auditorium, library, technical school, hospital and medical centre, dental offices, store showrooms, a hotel, restaurants, a recreation area with a swimming pool, bowling alley and cinema, and possibly a municipal building.

Planning of the centre is being undertaken jointly by Grosvenor - Laing, Woodward Department Stores Ltd. and the Surrey municipality's advisory planning commission, but only the Grosvenor-Laing company is involved in financing the project.

Gen. Roberts said a residential area is expected to grow up around the new city.

Surrey's present population of about 70,000 is expected to increase to about 200,000 by 1976.

Negro Family's Home Blasted by Dynamite

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A dynamite bomb was ignited Wednesday night in a home recently acquired by a Negro family in a formerly all-white neighborhood of Atlanta.

The Negro family was not at home at the time of the bombing. Damage was light and no injuries were reported.

Neighbors said a group of white youths had pelted the house with rocks Tuesday night. The Negro owner came to the front door, poked a shotgun out and threatened to kill his tormentors if they didn't quit, the neighbors said.

A detective said he didn't think "whoever did this bombing tried to destroy the house—I think they just wanted to scare somebody."

Court Guardianship Asked

Errol Flynn Real Gentleman Beverly Aadland's Mother Says

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If only Errol Flynn were still alive my little girl wouldn't be in this mess," says the mother of 17-year-old Beverly Aadland.

The late actor's teen-age ex-mistress was described Wednesday by juvenile authorities as a $100-a-date prostitute.

Authorities filed a petition seeking to make Beverly a ward of juvenile court. She faces a hearing May 2.

Beverly has been held in custody since William Stanciu, an aspiring actor, was shot fatally in her apartment last Saturday. Homicide detectives say they are satisfied with her story that Stanciu was shot during a struggle for his revolver.

"Errol Flynn was a real gentleman," said Mrs. Florence Aadland, who approved of her daughter's relationship with the dashing actor who died in Vancouver last October of a heart attack at 50.

"It's these young Hollywood men who can get a girl in trouble," Mrs. Aadland said.

"Why, Errol Flynn loved Beverly and she loved him—it was a thing of beauty, real beauty."

B.C. CCF To Plan Election

VANCOUVER (CP) — The CCF party in British Columbia will lay down final plans for fighting the next provincial election when it meets in convention here April 22-24.

Some polishing and reiteration of a major policy statement drafted a year ago is expected.

Harold Thayer, provincial secretary, said Thursday the agenda won't be released until the opening of the convention, but it will concern itself largely with preparations for an election which the party expects before its 1961 meeting.

Some other sources indicate there may be a few fireworks develop over the shape of the proposed new CCF-Labor party and over public statements last winter by Harold Winch, CCF member of parliament for Vancouver East.

U.S. Traffic Engineer Endorses Mall Plans

Traffic engineering consultant D. Jackson Faustman of Sacramento yesterday gave Victoria's parking building and mall plan a clean bill of health.

"I take my hat off to this type of thinking," he said.

Engaged to review technical aspects of the $1,000,000 downtown improvement plan, scheduled to come to a vote of business-district property-owners next month, he reported to council:

- That in his opinion it would not overload adjacent streets with traffic.
- That the only apparent result of blocking part of Broad as a mall would be to "speed up the need" for changes in the Douglas and Government traffic patterns—a reference, he made clear, to one-way traffic.
- That the design of the parking garage "is completely in accordance with the best practice," although further consideration should be given to including at least one elevator.
- That probable net earnings of the garage at the start would be $31,000, so that "the garage revenue plus the proposal to double the parking meter rate should mean no difficulty whatever in financing."

Hostage Safe After 31 Hours

Relief floods faces of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Butts as they hug their daughter, Barbara, 10, held captive by a teenager for 31 hours in a house at Pulaski, Virginia. The girl escaped unharmed when police sent a barrage of tear gas into the home.

Plunges Off Wet Road

Car Uproots Pole, Young Driver Hurt

A young Saanich driver is in satisfactory condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital with injuries received yesterday when his car struck a power pole and plunged off Blenkinsop Road, at 8.30 a.m.

Allen Holgate, 981 Sutcliffe, was driving south on Blenkinsop on wet pavement, police said, when his older-model car went out of control at a curve near Lohbrunner.

The vehicle struck a power pole, uprooting six feet of its base and dragging that along in a 10-foot plunge down a bank and into a tree. The youth was thrown out the driver's door on final impact, and was found conscious by a following driver.

Saanich police took the youth to hospital, where he was treated for multiple abrasions and bruises, and a severe cut to the foot. He was admitted.

Meanwhile, police had to stand by the scene and block the road while the car was dragged back to the highway and the dangling power pole braced securely.

Old Hotel Given New Name

An old hotel has taken on a new and—its owner hopes—more suitable name. What formerly was the James Bay Hotel is from now on the Colonial Inn.

Owner-manager L. A. Bolli, who's had the hostelry for the last six years, said yesterday there was one major reason for the change:

Tourists booking in there during the summer were too often disappointed because their hotel room did not overlook a bay.

Chamber Eyes Replicas Of Crown Jewels for City

If the price is right, and if the Chamber of Commerce can find someone to buy them, a world-famous collection of replicas of the British Crown jewels may come to Victoria as a tourist attraction.

The work of antique dealer Charles Elston of Stockton On-Tees, England, the collection was recently put up for sale, and the Victoria Chamber has written for particulars.

"What we would like to do is interest some local firm in purchasing the collection and using it as a tourist attraction," said chairman Sam Lane. "Things like these are the essence of tourism and would be a terrific draw. We are going to get all the details, then try to interest a purchaser."

Mr. Elston spent 25 years creating the collection. Each gem in the collection is the exact size, shape and weight of the one it duplicates. The gold in the collection is brass and most of the jewels are paste, but many are genuine stones.

If no private buyer is found, the collection will be put up for public auction in London.

Urban Areas Enumeration Nearly Done

Enumeration for the provincial voters' list in the urban areas of Oak Bay, Saanich, Esquimalt and Victoria is three-quarters finished, a government spokesman said yesterday.

He said enumerators have met all degrees of co-operation and objections, including those who believe they shouldn't sign anything to get on the voters' list.

"Some are resentful at being asked to register at all, but they still think they should be allowed to vote when the time comes," he said.

Another African Work Boycott Ordered

Strike Again, Blacks Told

100 More Seized In Raids

JOHANNESBURG (CP) — The African National Congress called on Negroes Thursday to boycott work again next week in the fight against the South African government's racial policies. (See also Page 15.)

Importance of the passive resistance move is that it has been issued by the large, recently-banned African National Congress and not the smaller Panafrican group which sparked the first resistance movement.

SURPRISE RAID

Soon after the new strike call about 300 police backed by armored cars made a surprise raid on a Negro township near here Thursday and rounded up 100 persons for questioning.

Police said many "dangerous weapons, gangsters and wanted criminals" were found. The raid occurred at Orlando Township, about 150 miles from here, where about 10,000 Negroes live.

The new strike call came in leaflets distributed in African townships bordering Johannesburg ordering Negroes to stay home for at least a week in a work boycott starting next Monday.

STRONG-ARM GROUPS

Strong-arm groups have been formed in the native towns to enforce the new strike inasmuch as most natives cannot afford to strike and may endeavor to disregard the call.

Police issued a statement promising protection for all who want to work.

"Hundreds of thousands of law-abiding Africans must not stay away from work," it said. "They must ignore the pamphlets if they have received them."

BIG TROUBLE

Big trouble could come from revival of the work boycott, a powerful economic weapon in this land where 10,000,000 Negroes provide most of the labor for the farms, factories and homes of 3,000,000 whites.

The first phases of the stay-at-home movement, crushed by police raids on African settlements last week, showed the country's vulnerability. Industry slowed. Meat supplies dwindled. Housework suffered.

Mimeographed pamphlets signed by the emergency committee of the African National Congress and circulated throughout the Negro settlements of Johannesburg asked all Negroes to join in a one-week work boycott starting next Monday.

The pamphlets made four major demands as "our answer to the savage attack the government has made on us and our leaders" in efforts to quell the racial turmoil.

The demands were listed as follows:

"1. Down the passes, which

Education Costs

Taxpayers To Save $428,000

Revised Grant Formula Eases Boost in Budget

By TERRY HAMMOND

Greater Victoria taxpayers will be saved $428,000 in education costs as the result of a revised school grant formula announced by the provincial government yesterday.

The announcement took much of the sting out of a $1,000,000 increase in School District 61's 1960 budget.

NOT KNOWN

But what the provincial grant would mean in terms of tax rate increases in Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt was not immediately known.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson came up with the lowest estimate of what the mill rate increase would have to be—.83 mills.

Saanich municipal officials came up with the highest, 2.1 mills, while school board secretary-treasurer T. L. Christie, on the basis of a quick glance and rapid calculation, estimated 1⅛ mills.

ONE MILL

Victoria comptroller Dennis Young estimated about 1 mill.

But even the highest estimates made after the grants were released were less than the lowest estimates made previously.

Saanich had feared a 3-mill increase for school purposes and Victoria 2¼ mills.

Other municipalities had made no estimates, but were keeping their fingers crossed.

Greater Victoria will get total school grants of $3,067,722 for operating and $396,597 for debt retirement—a total of $3,464,319.

To meet the school district's total budget of $7,896,087 the area's four municipalities must raise $4,432,000.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the grants the education department announced the percentages which the municipalities must contribute towards this figure.

Victoria and Oak Bay will pay a lower proportion of the total than last year and Saanich and Esquimalt will pay more.

RELATIVE ASSESSMENT

Calculated on the basis of relative assessments between municipalities, Victoria will pay 48.12 per cent of the total, Saanich 28 per cent, Oak Bay 13.79 per cent and Esquimalt 8.11 per cent. Remaining 1.98 per cent will come from unorganized territory (View Royal) within the district.

In terms of dollars and cents the percentages mean that for Greater Victoria schools Victoria city must raise $2,132,676; Saanich, $1,240,960; Oak Bay, $611,172; Esquimalt, $359,435; View Royal, $87,753.

LOCAL SHARE

In addition, Saanich must contribute 38 per cent of the local share of the School District 63 budget, or approximately $158,500.

In the remainder of District 63 the rural area will contribute $124,000; Central Saanich, $91,740; Sidney, $37,530.

Grants Restore Faith

Mayor Believes In Santa Claus

The provincial government may not have won any new admirers with its higher school grants here yesterday, but it didn't make any implacable enemies either.

Word that the province had made good its promise to give greater aid to school districts in the face of sharp increases in teachers' salaries brought sighs of relief in Greater Victoria municipal offices and at city hall.

To news that Victoria will get $428,000 more in provincial education grants this year and that Education Minister Leslie Peterson had estimated the area's school mill rate increase at a mere .83 mills, Mayor Percy Scurrah said, "I still believe in Santa Claus—it's restored my faith."

He commended the government for recognizing the need to reallocate the burden of school costs—"at least to a limited degree."

City finance chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell said, "this makes me a little more optimistic about holding the mill rate to a reasonable amount, anyway."

But among many municipal officials there was fear that Mr. Peterson's estimate of the necessary mill rate increase was too low, and a feeling they would like to see the province

PARIS (AP)—Four-year-old Eric Peugeot, kidnapped heir to a French automobile-making empire, was abandoned by his abductors outside a Paris bar late Thursday night and restored to his family.

The boy was found weeping and bewildered. He appeared shocked and dazed but unharmed.

His father, Roland Peugeot, murmered "I can't say anything" as he emerged from a police station with the child clutched in his arms. Tears streamed down the face of the elder Peugeot.

The father was called to the small Chaillot police station near the Peugeot apartment to pick up the boy. Police cleared a path for the father as he put the boy in a police car to drive home.

The kidnappers—reported to be two men—had asked $100,000 ransom for the boy's safe return.

One unofficial source quoted the father as saying that "some" money had been paid.

The police announcement that the boy had been found came within half an hour after a new note from the kidnappers had been delivered to the Peugeot family.

The note said: "Your son is living and well. Everything will be all right if you keep silent. We will make contact again during the night."

There was no word from police on whether they had found any trace of the kidnappers.

Barman Jean Volphilhec told police.

"It was about five minutes after 1 a.m. when a man came in holding a child by the hand . . . I thought immediately of Eric Peugeot and looked at the picture in the newspaper . . . then all the clients around me began to ask the boy his name."

He said the boy replied: "My name is Eric Peugeot."

Bernstein Coming To Festival

VANCOUVER (CP)—The New York Philharmonic Orchestra will appear under the direction of Leonard Bernstein during this year's Vancouver International Festival, it was announced Thursday.

Nicholas Goldschmidt, festival artistic and managing director, said the orchestra will give two performances Aug. 15 and 16.

Floating Life Jackets Dash Hopes for Men

SECHELT, B.C. (CP) — The discovery of a pair of life jackets floating in the wind-swept waters of Georgia Strait dashed hopes of searchers Thursday that six missing men would be found alive.

The six are believed to have been drowned Wednesday night when their 16-foot outboard motorboat was caught in threshing waves and winds that gusted to 60 miles an hour.

Their boat was found floating, bow up, near this community 40 miles northeast of Vancouver about 5 a.m. Thursday.

Ches Has New Stock

Free Seed Offer Resumes Sunday

M. V. Chesnut's red-hot seed offers resume Sunday in The Daily Colonist with another popular offer channeled through the Garden Notes column.

Ches went broke on the fabulous new sweet peas in the first offer. The demand zoomed far past the 10,000 mark, despite the fact that about 6,500 was anticipated on past performance.

Ches cleaned out all of his own supply, all the seed available in Canada, and finally had to turn to Europe for the last 1,500 packages. This has increased delay, but all should now be filled by Wednesday at the latest.

Having learned a lesson, a tremendous supply of the new seed already is on hand.

Champagne, Shoes All in a Dog's Life

TORONTO (CP)—Two Toronto Humane Society inspectors learned Thursday a dog's life can include a champagne diet and a $400 wardrobe. They didn't approve.

Acting on a complaint that Felsen Fest Pisces, a limpid-eyed 13-month-old white poodle was seen staggering on his daily walk the investigators visited the home of his wealthy lady owner.

Pisces was clad in one of his 15 suits and bow tie. He had just come out of his Turkish bath which he has daily. The inspectors agreed they had never seen such curly hair, but they told the owner they feared the heat bath might eventually damage the skin.

Pisces has an apparent taste for the finer things of life. He prefers his daily glass of champagne to tasteless water.

Society general manager George Hulme said the owner, whom he declined to identify, was being informed of the society's displeasure of the liquid diet and daily heat bath.

"There's certainly no cruelty involved," he said. "We just think it's poor dog management."

The inspectors were somewhat envious of Pisces' wardrobe. Besides 15 suits it included bow ties, six sets of pyjamas, four sets of shoes four to a set, a raincoat and a couple of tiara-like headpieces set with rhinestones.

As for being drunk, Pisces' maid Mation Zahn was adament.

"Pisces is never drunk," she said. "His shoes make him walk funny."

Coast Guard Ship Sinks

SEATTLE (AP)—A 40-foot Coast Guard patrol boat with three men aboard sank yesterday in Puget Sound off Seattle's Magnolia Bluff. The crew was rescued unharmed.

The patrol boat was one of three helping tow in a Coast Guard relief lightship. Witnesses said the 40-footer began settling by the stern and went down. The cause was not immediately determined.

One of the other patrol boats helped pull the three men from the water.

Boom-Boom Sets Them Up

Playmaker for Montreal Canadiens last night was Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion who assisted on three goals in a 4-0 win over Toronto Maple Leafs.

Geoffrion grabs loose puck beside Toronto goalie Johnny Bower and prepares to fire it to one of his linemates.

Montreal Sweeps Stanley Cup

Even Imlach Impressed At Powerful Canadiens

TORONTO—Even coach Punch Imlach of Toronto Maple Leafs was impressed Thursday night as the powerful Montreal Canadiens captured a record fifth straight Stanley Cup championship.

Montreal whipped Toronto 4-0 before an estimated crowd of 14,000 at Toronto and also matched the 1951-52 record of eight straight playoff wins set by Detroit.

	W	L	Pct.	GBL
Chicago	2	1	.667
Los Angeles	2	1	.667
San Francisco	2	1	.667
Cincinnati	1	1	.500	½
Milwaukee	1	1	.500	½
Philadelphia	1	1	.500	½
Pittsburgh	1	1	.500	½
St. Louis	0	3	.000	2

Coach Toe Blake's Canadiens eliminated Chicago Black Hawks in four semi-final games and then turned on Toronto for another series sweep.

Until Thursday, Imlach was his ever-confident self and simply refused to admit the Maple Leafs were fighting a losing battle.

SHAKES HANDS

Following last night's loss, Imlach walked around the Toronto dressing room and shook hands with the players. Then he went to the Montreal room and repeated the performance.

Imlach's only comment was, "Canadiens played real well in that one. They made it real tough for us."

Even at that, it was the first time Imlach had praised the Canadiens since the series opened.

NO MATCH

Toronto was no match for the Canadiens last night.

Huge centre Jean Beliveau led the way with two goals while Henri Richard and defenceman Doug Harvey scored singles. Bernie Geoffrion had three assists.

It was all Montreal despite Toronto's frantic efforts to make a game of it. And, like the three previous games, Canadiens skated to a quick lead and then coasted to the win.

THREE CHANCES

Toronto had three good scoring chances in the second period. Dick Duff hitting a post, Carl Brewer hitting the cross bar and Frank Mahovlich being foiled on a breakaway.

Montreal goalie Jacques Plante was brilliant in recording his third shutout of the playoffs by making 30 saves. Plante had blanked Chicago twice in semi-final games.

Montreal appeared content to put a big screen around Plante in the final period in an effort to preserve the shutout for the masked goaltender.

Toronto carried the play for most of the period and, although they came close a few times, they could not organize a serious drive.

At the end of the game, president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League officially handed the coveted Stanley Cup to veteran Montreal player Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

The 38-year-old Richard was the first player to be congratulated by Imlach.

Asked by reporters if he planned on retiring, Richard replied, "We'll wait until summer and see."

The Montreal players had clomped into the dressing room, shouted congratulations to each other and then went about the business of putting on street clothes and heading for their train.

It was a surprisingly quiet demonstration. Veterans and youngsters alike, after the first exuberant outburst, took it all in their stride as if it were a regular-season win.

"Well," drawled Doug Harvey, "When you win 4-0 and win in four games after four cup titles you don't get excited."

MORE EXCITED

Reporters and photographers swarmed about and appeared more excited than the players.

Coach Blake was asked what next, after his fifth straight title?

"I like odd numbers," he answered. "After six comes seven."

The gloom hung like a curtain in the Toronto dressing room. Most of the players sat about in various stages of undress, in no hurry to shower. Defenceman Bob Baun and forward Bob Pulford sat slumped on the bench, still in full uniform and holding sticks as if unable to believe the season was over.

Finally, players began talking and showering. Baun still sat, skates laced and stick held tightly in his hands.

Fighting Chicago Cubs Choke Rally for Win

Chicago Cubs brought the unbeaten ways of San Francisco Giants to a close Thursday but had to use four pitchers to subdue the home run-happy Giants 6-5 in the climax of a full National League schedule.

Result left Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco tied for first place in early-season standings. Each team has won two games and lost one.

Los Angeles grabbed a one-third share of first place, scoring two runs in the bottom of the ninth to edge St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 behind fine relief pitching from Ed Roebuck.

Other games, both afternoon contests, saw Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies win their home openers.

Pittsburgh exploded for a 13-0 win over Cincinnati Reds as Vern Law hurled a seven-hitter. Law, top Pirate pitcher last season with an 18-9 record, delighted a huge crowd of 34,064.

Philadelphia trimmed Milwaukee Braves 5-4 in 10-innings when Joe Koppe, who had struck out three previous times, singled in the winning run.

Chicago led all the way against the hometown Giants who remained close until the end on home runs by Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland, two, and Willie McCovey.

Ernie Banks was the big gun for the Cubs with a bases-loaded home run in the third inning. It was Banks' second homer of the season.

McCovey made it close with a three-run homer, his first of the season, in the eighth but Chicago got fine relief pitching from Don Elston, Art Ceccarelli and Ben Johnson. Starter Seth Morehead was the winner.

At Los Angeles, Roebuck was the winner in relief of Johnny Podres. Duke Snider hit his first homer of the year for Dodgers, a one-run blast in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia's win came only hours after manager Eddie Sawyer had resigned.

Acting manager Andy Cohen may go down as baseball's only unbeaten manager since he'll be relieved today by new skipper Gene Mauch.

Don Cardwell was the Phillies' winner while the loser was Juan Pizarro.

Joe Adcock crashed out two homers for Milwaukee while Bobby Del Greco and Cardwell connected for Philadelphia.

VIEWS of SPORT

By Red Smith

If young Sam Snead had devoted less attention to his golf swing and more to learning to count in that little red schoolhouse in West Virginia, then today's reading public might have been spared an aggravated attack of the tripes, which is a type of queasiness induced by teapot tempests.

There has been, it says here, an absurdly disproportionate commotion over the television match that Snead purposely dumped for the cameras after he had accidentally lost it on the quiet.

There are two major points which have been widely overlooked:

(a) Snead is an honest hillbilly who respects the game that has made him rich. Through foolish carelessness he got himself into a dilemma that confused him, but on the essential issue he was perfectly clear—regardless of the financial stakes, he could not accept victory in a match he had lost under the rules.

(b) The contest wasn't rigged. Sam's small crime against the code was committed inadvertently; it was a purely technical infraction with no bearing on the actual play. As soon as he discovered his error the match was irrevocably lost. How he contrived to make the loss official was a matter of small consequence.

Shown Three Months Later

As the match was played, victory and the rewards—$4,000 and a chance to try for $8,000 more—went to the proper man. Nobody got hurt unless, as The Reliable Jersey House has suggested to Stanley Woodward, there were bettors backing Snead. And the probability is that the House got that notion straight out of his vermouth-cassis.

It must be remembered that the match was filmed in Bermuda in December and not shown on television until three months later. There are always a good many witnesses to these tapings and only a token effort is made to keep the score a secret. Neither The Reliable Jersey House nor any other member of his estimable profession is going to let a client past-post him by three months, and if there's anybody so stupid as to lose on a competition whose result is known, then he doesn't deserve to have money.

Even in a friendly wager between guys watching television in honest ignorance of the result, no harm would be done. The loser lost, no matter how. If the betting was on a hole-by-hole basis, friends would either settle according to the rule book or call all bets off.

It has been amply demonstrated that the television industry is utterly amoral. Lately the hucksters have been making a noisy public show of rectitude but their sanctity rises from an ulcer, not conscience, and it's fear for their grubby little hides that gives the golf shows protection the quiz shows didn't have.

That is, it is their fear and the built-in ethics of the golfers themselves. Because it's as easy to cheat at golf as at solitaire, golfers realize that they can have no game at all without rigid adherence to the code. The code means all the rules, including those which seem petty. No other sport is policed as strictly as golfers police themselves.

He Hadn't Moved the Ball

Thus in the Masters, Arnold Palmer called for a ruling—possibly ruinous to him—when he and he alone saw his ball move while he was taking a practice swing near by. No penalty was charged because Palmer hadn't moved the ball.

Thus also, Dow Finsterwald brought in a complaint against himself for violating a rule he didn't know applied in the Masters, by taking a practice putt after finishing a hole. He was happy to get off with a two-stroke penalty.

And thus Sam Snead when, after 12 holes of his TV match with Mason Rudolph, he discovered in his bag one more club than the law allows. In ordinary circumstances he would have announced his discovery and forfeited the match right there, but this would have left the sponsors with an unfinished show.

That was his dilemma as he brooded through the next three holes. Coming to the 16th with the match square, his mind was made up. With considerable difficulty he chucked the match, four-putting the 16th green and three-putting the 18th.

This was his second mistake, after failing to count his clubs in the first place. Sam is a golfer, not a TV producer. He should have called the rule as it's written and let the space cadets worry about their end of it, but he's a decent guy who erred out of consideration for others.

Having first made sure that he wouldn't profit unfairly, he told the TV people what had happened. They were the ones who, knowing about the dump, decided to put it on the air. And now that the truth is out, they're the ones who are embarrassed.

Sam Snead And Palmer Cup Choices

NEW YORK (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the new Masters champion, was named Thursday to team with Sam Snead in the eighth annual invitational Canada Cup and International Trophy golf matches in Ireland next June.

The announcement was made by Frank Pace, president of the International Golf Association, who said Palmer and Snead were the top choices of the Golf Union of Ireland.

The 72-hole medal play event is scheduled June 23-26 at Portmarnock, just outside Dublin.

The Canada Cup follows the U.S. Open at Denver June 16-18 and precedes the 100th anniversary British Open at historic St. Andrews July 4-9.

Nanaimo Improves Though Not Enough

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Fort Frances Canadians came from behind in the third period to defeat Nanaimo Labatts 7-5 Thursday night and take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Western Canada intermediate hockey final.

The Nanaimo squad showed a marked improvement over its performance in the first game, won by Fort Frances 4-1 Wednesday night. Third game is Saturday night. The whole series is being played in Fort Frances.

Canadians took a 3-2 lead in the first period, but Nanaimo came back with the only two goals of the second frame to lead 4-3. Canadians then struck back with four goals in the last period to Nanaimo's one.

Playing coach Frank Eisenzoph and veteran Ed Kliner led the Fort Frances attack with two goals each. The others went to Art Rousseau, Bill Kawulia and Bill Borlase.

Nanaimo scorers were Bill Sutherland, Arnie Dugan, Stan Berry, Red Wilgress and Jim Peterson.

LOOSE PUCK

Kawulia opened the scoring in the second minute of the game, grabbing a loose puck at the edge of the Nanaimo goal crease and beating goalie Bob Lumley cleanly. Sutherland tied it at 1-1 minutes later, banging in Berry's rebound.

Kliner and Borlase made it 3-1 with goals from scrambles in rapid succession mid-way through the period. Dugan closed first period scoring with a picture goal, taking a pass near centre ice and breaking into the clear to skate in and fake out goalie Harry Barefoot before sliding the puck home.

Berry tied the score at 3-3 at 7.14 of the second, banging in Sutherland's rebound. About one minute later, Wilgress tipped in Peterson's goalmouth pass to send Nanaimo into the lead for the first time in the series.

Canadians roared back in the third, with Kliner tying it on a neat passing play with Eisenzoph and Dan Dilworth at 1.16. Rousseau made it 5-4 for Canadians two minutes later, counting from 10 feet out.

Eisenzoph scored his first at 6.49 to make it 6-4 for Canadians, before Peterson counted Nanaimo's last goal on a close-in pass from Wilgress. Eisenzoph finished the scoring at 14.36 when he deflected Dilworth's pass around Lumley.

Lumley played a solid game for Labatts, blocking 31 shots. Barefoot handled 20 in the Fort Frances nets.

Showdown For Cougars

Victoria Cougars will attempt to prolong what has been a successful season when they meet Vancouver Canucks tonight at Vancouver in the seventh game of the Western Hockey League final.

Cougars need a win to remain in the best-of-nine series for the President's Cup after losing 2-1 Wednesday to fall behind four games to two.

Manager-coach Hay Laycoe of the Cougars is still simmering over Wednesday's loss to Vancouver in which two Victoria goals were disallowed by referee Scotty Morrison.

"But," said Laycoe, "that's over and done with now. If we can just play as well as we have in the last two games, we may surprise Vancouver and get another crack at that team on our home ice."

Laycoe plans no lineup changes for tonight's game. If Victoria wins tonight, eighth game of the series would be played Saturday night at Memorial Arena.

Pender Ill, Bout June 10

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston boxing promoter Sam Silverman says the fight between Paul Pender and Sugar Ray Robinson has been postponed until June 10 because Pender has bursitis in the spur of his right heel.

Silverman says the bout—for the Massachusetts and New York version of the middleweight championship—was originally slated for the Boston Garden on April 29, but instead will be rescheduled. It will still be held in the Garden.

Coast League Opens

Mounties Clipped Twice

SACRAMENTO — Opening of the Pacific Coast Baseball League season produced little in the way of encouragement for Vancouver Mounties, who dropped both ends of a double-header, 10-9 and 5-1, to Sacramento Solons.

Mounties held leads of two runs on three occasions in the afternoon game before losing in 10 innings. Veteran Elmer Singleton struck out 10 and limited Mounties to seven hits in leading Sacramento to the evening win.

Vancouver used six pitchers in the opening game while Sacramento used five.

Outfielder Howie Goss of Vancouver was the top batter in the first game. Goss hit two home runs, one a tremendous 440-foot smash over the centre field fence in the third inning.

Veteran lefthander Joe Hatten was the loser for Vancouver in the evening game and gave way to Al Corwin in the eighth inning.

Only Vancouver run came in the fifth inning when Bobby Balcena homered.

Leonard Shoots 75 In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Thorne Wood shot a five-under-par 66 Thursday for the lead in the first round of the $17,500 Greensboro Open golf tournament.

The southpaw was one stroke ahead of Len Woodward, 27-year-old Sydney, Australia, pro and Dow Finsterwald, last year's winner.

Par is 35-36 for the 6,651-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course.

Alone in fourth place with a 68 was Sam Snead, seeking his seventh Greensboro victory since 1938 when he won the inaugural.

Bob Goalby was fifth with a 69.

In all, 10 men broke par and 10 others equalled it in a field of 128.

Al Balding of Toronto, playing out of Crystal River, Fla., fired 38-33—71 for an 11th-place tie with nine others.

Cowichan's Small Grant Rise 'Punishment for Criticism'

Trustee Complains

DUNCAN—Cowichan School board chairman George Whittaker said last night the district is being punished for criticizing the government.

He made the comment after being told the board would receive a grant increase this year of only $12,000 to the $397,827 received last year.

"It seems we're being punished for giving the minister a bad time," Mr. Whittaker commented. The board had criticized the government's handling of a money bylaw last year and its apparent inability to float bonds.

He predicted that the board will want to know the basis that the grants were distributed and "why Victoria's increased by over 16 per cent, while Cowichan's increased by only three per cent.

"This $12,000 represents no real increase as the budget for Cowichan in 1960 increased about $80,000. The local taxpayers will be paying for most of that increase," he said.

Crofton's striking black beach.

Copper Mines Left Black Sand Legacy

CROFTON — It is a little startling. Probably the black beach here is the only stretch like it in the province, and there hangs a tale.

A mountain of black waste still stands, reminder of a flurry of copper mining on Mount Sicker at the turn of the century. Wind and tides have spread the black blanket so that only a few pieces of ordinary sand can be seen.

For years speculators have talked of purchasing the property and bulldozing it out for a unique marina, but so far nothing has been done.

The mountain of slag sprouted when the mill operated from 1902 to 1905.

Island Tug and Barge Ltd. owns it now. It is claimed the tough little grains are harder and cleaner than sand. It is used for blasting the hulls of boats and tugs.

Crofton postmaster Stan Dyke said there may be a 1,000,000 tons remaining in the pile that is more than 150-feet high.

Residents in the area explain the waste had been there so long it is ignored.

Island Boards Learn Share

Six Lower Vancouver Island school districts will share more than half a million dollars in provincial education grant increases announced here yesterday.

The increases were embodied in a sum of $51,000,000 to be distributed among B.C.'s 82 school districts and unattached areas — $5,000,000 more than last year's education grants.

Greater Victoria got the lion's share of Island grants with $3,067,722 for operating costs, compared with $2,639,721 last year.

Sooke received $446,000, an increase of $64,000, and Saanich got $443,709, up $31,000.

Cowichan got the smallest increase of the six. Lake Cowichan gained $17,000 on a grant of $185,000 for 1959.

Gulf Islands School District drew $94,659, an increase of only $800 over last year.

Grants to other Island school districts were: Ladysmith, $400,613; Nanaimo, $908,659; Qualicum, $252,184; Alberni, $344,383; Courtenay, $793,467; Campbell River, $242,303; Alert Bay, $130,308.

Tecumseh, the Indian chief who helped the British in the War of 1812, was killed at the Battle of Moraviantown in 1813.

Gulf Island Girl to Spend Easter with Santa Claus

PORT WASHINGTON—Not every young miss is invited to visit Santa Claus at Easter. But that's what's in store for Penny Smith, 16, of Pender Island.

Penny struck up a friendship with Santa five years ago when the Bellingham Christmas Ship made its first visit to the Canadian Gulf Islands.

This week, Santa—Ray Hyatt of Snoqualmie, Wash. —invited Penny to be a guest of his family of 10 for Easter. In the process she will be taking her first train ride and first trip to the U.S.

Home Nursing Plans Backed

DUNCAN — Every large municipality, city and village in the Central Vancouver Island Health Unit has approved plans for extra home nursing.

It will require the services of four nurses and additional stenographic help.

"Everyone is in favor of it. The only areas where we haven't received official approval yet are the ones that are unorganized," said Dr. C. J. G. Mackenzie, medical health officer.

He said yesterday that the plan is getting such widespread support because it will mean a seven-day week nursing plan of sending nurses into homes, and special treatment for out-patients that is not available now on weekends.

It affects every area north of the Malahat except Nanaimo, which has the Victorian Order of Nurses, and Qualicum Beach, which has had home nursing for a year.

"We are receiving applications for jobs now, and expect to have them filled at Duncan. The plan, we hope, will be working within two weeks. There are to be two nurses there," he said. The service will start operating at Alberni in about two months.

Rifles Association Elects Capt. Irving

Capt. Bruce Irving was elected president of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles Association at a recent meeting. He succeeds Harry Belton.

Dysentery Spreads, Attacks One in Four

DUNCAN—A dysentery epidemic that has already touched 25 per cent of central Vancouver Island residents is working its way to the west coast.

Medical Health Officer Dr. C. J. G. Mackenzie said yesterday it still lingers in Duncan and Nanaimo but is now more serious in Alberni.

"There have been no deaths as the result of it," said the doctor. "It could have been (fatal), so I guess we've been lucky. It hasn't reached the extreme west coast, such as Tofino, but it probably will."

Dr. Mackenzie, returned yesterday from a tour of the west coast medical health units.

"There is no way of actually knowing how many people have so far been sick with it, but I'd say about 25 per cent," he said.

GANGES—Fire insurance rates dropped an average of a whopping 40 per cent on Salt Spring Island this week.

Ladysmith Decision Soon

Summer School Set In Three Districts

DUNCAN — All but one of four school districts that have agreed to start a sumer school here have officially sanctioned it.

Officials of Ladysmith school board said no decision will be reached until its meeting there April 26.

G. F. Dyson, appointed secretary of the summer school, said yesterday, Cowichan, Lake Cowichan and Salt Spring school districts had approved it.

Members of the four areas approved the start tentatively at a meeting here earlier this month.

Jaycees Drop Raffle Plans

DUNCAN—Jaycees dropped plans this week for a raffle of camping equipment because of possible police action.

It was to have been held to raise funds for charity. One was held last year at the annual Kiwanis boat show.

Lakeview Park Job Rushed for Regatta

LAKE COWICHAN — Kiwanis Club members are hurrying to complete Lakeview Park so it can be used for the annual regatta June 19.

But if it isn't completed, the event will be held farther from the foot of the lake at Ashburnum Beach.

The boat races and ski events are being scheduled for the new park because of rough water at Ashburnum and the chance that it could be too rough to hold races, as happened last year.

If Lakeview Park, on South Shore Road just outside the village, isn't completed, the club may try to use logs as breakwaters at the beach, club official Laurie Gaisford said yesterday.

ADDRESS_____

Flying Easter Bunny Grounded by City Council

The Easter Bunny won't arrive by helicopter after all at the Easter egg hunt organized by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Beacon Hill Park at 1 p.m. Sunday for Greater Victoria children: city council yesterday said no.

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean led the opposition to the use of the helicopter, calling it "one of these hare-brained schemes," and Mayor Percy Scurrah was concerned about safety of the children. Granting permission to deliver the bunny by helicopter was rejected by a tie vote.

But the bunny will arrive all right, Jaycee president Peter Forward said later—"by some land conveyance. The biggest Easter Bunny ever to set foot in Victoria."

Meanwhile, Jaycees last night helped the Easter bunny cook and dye some 3,600 six-minute eggs for the big Easter egg hunt.

The eggs, together with another 240 chocolate eggs, will be hidden in three areas in the park early Sunday morning. They will be guarded by Jaycees until the hunt officially opens at 1 p.m.

The Easter bunny will pay visits to the children's wards at Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's hospitals in the morning, passing out candy and gifts.

Pat Blewett, chairman of the organizing committee, said only about 1,500 children were originally expected to take part in the hunt, but some 4,000 are now expected.

To avoid confusion, children up to three years old should gather at the Robert Burns monument; children 4 to 6 at the cricket pitch, and children 7 to 12 on the field beside the animal pens.

The Easter bunny is due to arrive about 3 p.m. with candy and balloons to hand out to the children taking part in the hunt.

Fish Closure Asked At Cowichan Mouth

Salmon Club Undecided On Mooching Question

DUNCAN — Mooching and trolling fishermen got together here at the annual meeting of the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club and advocated a permanent closure of the river mouth.

After arguing for an hour on the merits of each fishing method, members "left in abeyance" the question of whether mooching should be banned.

"It was agreed that the conservation of the spring salmon run be left in the hands of the federal government. Through closures they could stop fishing where in their opinion salmon runs were being seriously depleted," secretary Mrs. Doris Lawrence said yesterday.

The subject came up for a full discussion after federal fisheries department disclosed that escapement last year on the Cowichan was 3,600 compared to between 6,000 and 8,000 in 1958.

To Come Up on May 12

Hot Words Exchanged Over Secrecy Bylaw

Scurrah, Mooney Tangle

Although Mayor Percy Scurrah insisted it wasn't up for debate, a draft bylaw to place a new restriction on press attendance at council meetings evoked a few hot words in council yesterday.

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean gave notice of intention to introduce the draft bylaw at council's May 12 meeting.

BALL ROLLING

Then he started the ball rolling by suggesting to the press that it shouldn't be labelled a secrecy bylaw—"With all goodwill to the press, I suggest that that is a misinterpretation."

(The existing procedure bylaw says reporters may be excluded by a majority vote of a committee. The proposed new provision is that they would be admitted only by invitation of a committee).

NO CHANCE

Then Ald. Hugh Ramsay rose to say that even though the draft bylaw appeared to have no chance of passing, he thought it would be worth while to have "certain points aired, including the comments of a radio commentator."

The commentator, he said, had attempted to "intimidate and browbeat council" over the draft bylaw.

And finally Ald. M. H. Mooney and Mayor Scurrah tangled over news of the draft—the result of a closed meeting of council—appearing in the newspapers.

IN CAMERA

The meeting was in camera, Ald. Mooney said, and someone had been talking about it when they shouldn't.

"Are you referring to me?" demanded Mayor Scurrah. "My views are well known and have been stated in public in council. I said I wouldn't support it, period. I'm not responsible for the stories in the press . . . I have no apologies to make."

Actually, other aldermen pointed out, nothing had appeared in the press until the draft bylaw became available Wednesday.

'Legalized Robbery'

No Welcome Mat Out for Carnival

No civic welcome mat will be out this May for the carnival which last year provoked a storm of criticism.

The Victoria Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition yesterday asked city council for permission to bring in Gayland Shows from May 16 to 21.

Council left the decision to the Memorial Arena Commission, which has been given jurisdiction over the property around the arena, but advised it that "council does not look with favor on the visit of this organization and in the event of permission being granted suggests that a bond for good behavior be provided."

"Last year there was what amounted to a riot at the show," City Clerk M. F. Hunter told council after Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean had first expressed doubts about it. "People were so mad they did something about it."

Ald. McLean said it was common knowledge that in some carnivals "the operator takes most of the money and those foolish enough to play take very little . . . In my book it's legalized robbery."

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow suggested that bonding should be required of all such organizations coming into the city, and council incorporated the bonding suggestion despite City Solicitor T. P. O'Grady's advice that "not a company in the country would issue such a bond."

Other council action yesterday:

● The aldermen refused a grant to Loretto Hall, a non-profit boarding home for women which solicitor Joseph McKennan said "is not there for gain, but to do Christian duty to womankind."

● They decided to be as well represented as possible at celebration of the centenary of St. John's Church May 4.

● Second-hand dealer W. A. Scott's letter asking for compensation for his legal expenses in winning acquittal from a charge of possessing stolen goods was referred to the city solicitor for advice.

The harbor craft, along with HMCS Oriole, has been stormbound in a Puget Sound port for the past 24 hours and this fact, plus uncertain weather conditions, has forced the sudden cancellation.

Closing Day

Switch by Barbers May Be Too Late

Victoria's barbers may have retreated too late from seeking and fighting a change in the bylaw making Wednesday their closing day.

Originally 32 of the city's licensed barbers, a three-fifths majority, petitioned council to change the day to Monday. Then some changed their minds and signed counter-petitions. Yesterday assistant city clerk Morran Waller told council 49 barbers had withdrawn their names from previous petitions.

But council instructed the city solicitor to prepare a bylaw enabling barbers to choose their own individual closing days.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay pointed out that council had formed a policy in leaving store and service station hours to the operators, and suggested the barbers' situation should be handled the same way—"Let them carry out their own business in the way they want to."

"I think what Ald. Ramsay suggests is what the barbers are afraid might happen," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

"Forty-nine have withdrawn their names. In other words, they want to stay as they are. They don't want to lose their bylaw," said Mayor Percy Scurrah.

But he and a majority of council agreed with Ald. Ramsay's suggestion.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 15-mile-an-hour speed limit in Vancouver school zones was restored by city council Tuesday. The zones had been illegal since a provincial law came into effect March 18, making the B.C. limit 20 miles an hour.

Thief Gets Varied Loot

Variety was the keynote for a thief who broke into the apartment of Mrs. A. J. Carrington, at 1060 Craigdarroch, sometime Wednesday.

Mrs. Carrington told city police that the thief stole:

Police found no indication of the burglar's means of entry.

Portuguese Boy Due Here Disappears in Vancouver

A 16-year-old Portuguese boy due to arrive in Victoria early this week to visit relatives has disappeared, presumably in Vancouver.

Juan Francisco da Deus was supposed to arrive in Vancouver Tuesday or Wednesday by plane from Portugal, en route to visit his brother-in-law, John Galvao, 1344 Amphion Street.

A check showed that Juan, who speaks no English, was on the passenger list of the flight from Portugal, but apparently dropped out of sight in Vancouver. He was supposed to catch a Trans-Canada Air Lines flight for Victoria.

Ronly Bonly Only Baloney

The saga of Ronly Bonly Jones ground to a halt yesterday amid a jangle of telephones and outraged cries from the department of education.

Yesterday's Colonist carried the story of how R. (only) B. (only) Jones became a school inspector up-Island and received a pay cheque made out to Ronly Bonly Jones. As it turned out, the story came third-hand — from a Duncan service club paper which got it from a back issue of a large-circulation magazine.

The Colonist's correspondent at the scene spent yesterday explaining the gaffe to one chortling caller after another.

Civil servants in the department of education were reported to be up in arms over what they considered a slur on their intelligence.

A. D. Jones, school superintendent at Duncan (and no kin to Ronly Bonly) was not available for comment.
